Principal Retains Job After Session At Bolinas School

Board Members Tell Of Saw Dispute, Administrative Worry

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Peter M. Auer will stay as superintendent-principal of Bolinas-Stinson School District.

The week-long controversy over Auer's forced resignation ended harmoniously last night with the school board reversing its stand and Auer rescinding his resignation.

Decision was made after a dramatic two and one-half hour meeting described by one citizen as "something of a public confessional."

At the meeting attended by about 100, most of whom were seated at fifth and sixth grade desks in Bolinas School:

1. Trustee Ida J. Mendonca said the whole fuss, as far as she was concerned, began over Auer's proposal to set up a wood shop at Bolinas School. "It was all over two little saws," said Mrs. Mendonca.

2. Trustee Arthur E. Carpenter made 10 demands of Auer. They include more leadership of the board in suggestions for curriculum development; more effective use of time by Auer in administrative duties; improvement of teaching of subjects now weak; adherence to assignment duties; less obvious cognizance of board errors; more experiment in team teaching, class and teacher mobility; tightening of lax discipline in upper grades.

"We don't have the best school in the county," said Carpenter. "Why not? We have the funds, limited enrollment, the plant."

3. Thirty-six people signed a

Seminary Fires Rights Activist

Teacher Had No Tenure

By ELLEN BRY

LeRoy Moore, a teacher at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry, has been fired by seminary trustees because of his civil rights views.

The move has broad implications, some seminary faculty members say, on the future nature and philosophy of the seminary and "whether Southern Baptist will move into the 20th Century."

TRUSTEE MEETING

The executive committee of the trustees, meeting yesterday under seminary president Roy K. Graves, voted to oust the instructor, unofficial seminary sources disclosed. Moore reportedly was charged in the closed meeting with emphasizing social issues and with a "bad attitude toward Graves."

Moore was informed today that his job was ended as of July 1. He could not be reached for comment.

The ouster reportedly came as a result of his taking the lead last year in backing a student from the seminary who walked in the civil rights march to Selma, Ala., faculty members said.

Moore and 15 of the other 25 faculty members donated money, as did some students, to send student Anthony J. Vos to walk in the Selma march.

OTHERS HAVE TENURE

Other faculty members active in the rights move have tenure. Moore did not.

At the time of the faculty-student backing of the lone marcher, Moore said "we expect some difficulty," referring reaction expected from members of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Rumors were about the campus some months ago that Moore was to be fired. In a student meeting on March 29, acting seminary president Fred L. Fisher, a professor of New Testament, told students there would be an "involuntary change" in the faculty and, later, a seminary source report-

'FEVER' WARNING; NEW VIET TROOPS

China Bases Could Be Bomb Targets

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says "a war fever" has begun to grip America and could lead to global conflict.

At the very least, he adds, it is crippling President Johnson's "Great Society" programs.

American military involvement in Viet Nam, Fulbright said in a speech last night, has diverted energies from the Great Society and "generated the beginnings of a war fever in the minds of American people and their leaders."

In Washington, U. S. officials have drawn a distinction between a "no sanctuary" policy and the principle of "hot pursuit."

They said hot pursuit means chasing an enemy during a combat engagement — even

SAIGON (UPI) —A U.S. Army brigade of 5,000 men landed today in South Viet Nam to raise American troop strength here to 255,000 —equal to the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars in the South. Another small advance contingent of a 4,500-man Australian task force also arrived today.

Arrival of the American reinforcements coincided with stepped up U.S. air efforts to block further Communist infiltration into the South. Hanoi has been forced to resort to fleets of junks to bring in men and the U.S. Navy disclosed today another devastating raid against a junk flotilla.

A spokesman said Navy jets destroyed 50 supply-laden Communist junks late yesterday and

College Building Funds Run Short

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin Junior College District Board is faced with a decision to change either the nature of the college or its present method of financing capital outlay projects.

Trustees were told last night that booming enrollment is creating a need for facilities faster than they can be financed by the district's 10-year, pay-as-you-go, 35-cent override tax program.

The present philosophy of a community college in Marin cannot be continued under the present method of financing, declared James W. Duke, director of research and planning.

Implied in the present philosophy are "community services with a wide range of areas for all those desiring them, both full and part-time credit students and non-credit students," Duke said.

Two courses of action are available to meet the financing dilemma, he said. "One course is to change the philosophy or nature of the college. The second course is to change the financial support for the college."

Changing the nature of the college could include restricting the curriculum, lengthening the school day, week and year, changing educational policies such as class sizes, and providing less support for certain programs, Duke noted.

"Alternatives to the financial problem include various procedures for converting from year-to-year income to 'all-at-once' income or higher year-to-year income," he said.

Duke estimated that about $7 million will be needed to bring the Kentfield campus to its next stage of completion to serve between 3,000 and 4,000 fulltime students.

These facilities will all be needed by the time they can be completed, assuming they are started immediately, he said.

He also estimated that $8 million will be required to complete the first phase of the north campus at Novato, to accommodate 2,500 fulltime students.

"The estimated rate of income from the 35-cent capital outlay tax override between now and the expiration of the tax override (1972) is slightly less than the projected need," he said.

More critical, he said, is the fact that the override income is available at the rate of about $1.5 million a year while the funds are needed at a faster rate.

"The needs on the Kentfield campus are immediate and the projected enrollments indicate the north campus should be opened by 1969," he said.

Duke said current enrollment is about four years ahead of

She Flies To See Graduation

A retired WAC master sergeant flew 10,000 miles from Okinawa to see her nephew receive two degrees during graduation exercises at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary today.

Mrs. Jacques De Glas took off from Okinawa at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday and arrived at Travis Air Force Base at 7:30 a.m. in a flight that actually took 17 hours. Her husband, a chief warrant officer in the Army, is stationed at Okinawa doing guided missile work.

Her nephew, Charles Higgins, 31, received master's degrees in religious education and church music. Higgins, a native of Yazoo City, Miss., has been minister of music for the First Baptist Church of Sausalito the past two years.

Also watching him graduate were his wife, Betty Jean, and his daughter, Jennifer, 9.

Two San Francisco Fires; Five Alarms

SAN FRANCISC (AP) — A nine-hour warehouse fire, fed by huge stores of bonded whisky into brilliant blue flame, was brought under control today by 300 firemen.

Twenty-four firemen were injured.

A scant five hours later, fire broke out in another warehouse only two blocks away.

Damage from the liquor warehouse fire was expected to exceed $1 million.

Flames shot up 150 feet from the four - story San Francisco Warehouse Co. building at Third and Brannon streets. That fire raged from 6 p.m. last night until brought under control about 3 a.m.

Shortly after 8 a.m. another fire, at the Halo Sales Co., 444 Townsend, drew many of the 45 pieces of equipment which had fought all night in the same south-of-Market warehouse district.

The fire in the warehouse — which also stored small arms ammunition, rubber tires and cigarettes—was the city's most spectacular in 40 years.

"I don't know a tougher fire I can remember," said Fire Chief William Murray.

"The last time there was a fire like this in San Francisco was in 1925 when the Miller-Lux slaughterhouse burned for five days."

The building's 58-year-old brick walls and interior steel firedoors closed in so much intense heat that firemen couldn't get near for three hours.

A truck driver, Virgil Zapponi of San Carlos, changed that situation. He backed his truck-tractor through dense smoke into a loading alley. His vehicle was hooked up to a parked trailer carrying 500 cases of bonded whisky.

All this then was backed up to a steel fire door. Gas-masked firemen chained the door to the liquor trailer. Zapponi gave his truck the gas. The steel door was ripped off.

For the first time, firemen could pour water inside on the flaming inferno.

The fire spread to a four-story office building at 383 Brannan. Firemen put it out but the building was flooded. Water also flooded the basement of the nearby MJB Coffee Co.

A NON-HAPPENING

No Doda, No Singers Means No Dance

By STEPHEN COOK

The million-record selling sound of the rock 'n' rolling Righteous Brothers will not shatter the air in Santa Venetia armory tonight.

"It was all a big mistake," said promoter Mike Aylwin, a 19-year-old College of Marin student who was known, during his brief attempt at dance promotion, as "International Talents."

Aylwin and friends he refused to identify placed posters about the county advertising a dance at the armory tonight featuring the Righteous Brothers and Carol Doda.

Aylwin, who lives at 33 Van Ripper Court, Sleepy Hollow, admitted today the advertisements were something of a misrepresentation.

Robert Chevalier, custodian the of armory, said because of that, the dance has been canceled and Aylwin's permit to operate a dance at the armory has been revoked.

Aylwin said he and friends organized the dance several months ago, renting the hall and hiring Miss Doda and a band to appear. Then they decided they should present someone special —like the Righteous Brothers.

Aywin said he had heard the rock 'n' roll team prides itself on never missing a concert. To test this, they distributed posters advertising the Righteous Brothers appearance throughout the county, then went to see the brothers at Lake Tahoe, where they were appearing.

"We though they would come when they found they were already billed," said Aylwin. They wouldn't.

Aylwin hoped the dance could still go on. He attached stickers to the already-distributed posters inferring that these were the Righteous Brothers "of College of Marin," not the famous ones.

The sheriff's office heard of the misrepresentation, though, and informed the armory, which canceled the dance. Aylwin was ordered to take down the posters.

Aylwin took an advertisement in the college newspaper Tower Times announcing the dance is off. He also prepared buleltins to be read at all high schools saying:

"The dance advertised for this Friday evening at the Santa Venetia armory has been cancelled due to misrepresentation on posters with regard to the talent advertised."

Aylwin said this was his first attempt at dance promotion. Chevalier, custodian at the armory, said it was his last, as far as the armory is concerned.

Tombstone Kills Hemet Girl, 3, In Cemetery

ANZA (AP)—A three-year-old Hemet girl was killed yesterday when a large tombstone fell on her at the Santa Rosa Indian Band's cemetery.

The victim, Janice Espinosa, had wandered off while her mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Gonzales, was clearing debris from the grave of a relative.

Authorities say Janice was playing when a huge head marker toppled over on her. She was pronounced dead at Hemet Valley Hospital.

County Asphalt Bids Come In With Identical Prices

Bidders seeking to supply Marin County with asphalt for road maintenance continue to be in amazing accord on price.

In four bids opened by County Purchasing Agent John Hettrich yesterday, the prices per ton on 11 different grades were exactly the same. Price offered by Chevron Asphalt Co. was exactly $2.50 per ton higher in all grades.

Union Oil Co., Douglas Oil Co. and Shell Oil Co. all submitted the same figures, ranging from $20 to $23.40 according to grade.

Hettrich said that the similarity in prices has existed for some time. One year, the contract was awarded by supervisors after a bidder's name was drawn from a hat.

Bids opened yesterday will go to supervisors Tuesday, Hettrich said.

Swig Rips Wolden Assessment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The owner of San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel testified yesterday he plans to sue the city because, he says, Assessor Russell L. Wolden over-assessed his hotel.

Benjamin H. Swig, a defense witness in Wolden's bribery trial, said the hotel was assessed at about $1 million in 1960. At that time, it contained 500 bedrooms.

Swig said 250 bedrooms were added to the Nob Hill landmark in 1962 at a total cost of about $7 million including the tearing down of a garage and part of the old building. The witness said Wolden's office gave no credit for the part torn down and increased the assessment $3.5 million — or about 50 per cent of the construction cost.

Swig said he wrote his attorney three months ago when he learned more about the law and "it is my intention to bring suit." He did not say when the suit would be filed.

Defense attorney James Martin MacInnis asked Swig if he discussed the tax problems with Wolden. Swig replied, "I did not. If I weren't so friendly with him, I should have done a great deal more than I did."

RADIATION AREA—The AEC believes radiation was carried into these western states from a leak in a Nevada test explosion. (UPI Telephoto)

AEC Says Radiation Escaped In Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Low levels of radio iodine have been detected in the thyroids of persons living in a desert community northeast of the Nevada test site, from which the Atomic Energy Commission said radiation from an underground nuclear explosion escaped into the atmosphere Monday.

The U.S. Public Health Service said yesterday it took mobile thyroid scanning equipment into the town of Alamo—about 100 miles northeast of the detonation site—and invited residents to undergo measurements for documentary purposes.

Radio iodine was detected in the thyroids of 11 children and two adults, a health service spokesman said.

The radioactive gasses, carried by winds in a northeasterly direction from the test site, were measured at high altitudes over Kansas and Nebraska. Presumably they also would have been measurable over Utah, Colorado and possibly Wyoming, the AEC said.

In Washington, a Senate subcommittee set an investigation into possible radioactive pollution of streams in the Colorado River Basin. The hearings are scheduled next week.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Me., said yesterday he called the public hearings because of several cases of contamination in rivers by uranium mill tailings mainly in Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

Houlihan Indicted Of Grand Theft

OAKLAND (AP) — The grand jury returned a grand theft indictment yesterday against former Mayor John C. Houlihan because of alleged shortages in an estate for which he was conservator.

Houlihan resigned Feb. 15, the day heirs of Mrs. Glenn O. Whitlock sued for an audit of her estate. Houlihan had handled Mrs. Whitlock's financial affairs as a private attorney.

Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley said that in an interview Houlihan had acknowledged a $95,799 shortage but declined to account for it. Houlihan has denied any wrong doing.

Coakley said grand jurors studied evidence alleging that Houlihan used estate money to help finance his 1961 election campaign, settle income tax liens, finance investments and pay personal expenses.

Houlihan was named conservator of the Whitlock estate in 1961, a year before winning the $7,500 post as mayor. When he resigned as mayor, he declared the position did not pay enough and forced him to sacrifice his private business.

Mrs. Whitlock, widow of a grocery store chain executive died May 14, 1965. Houlihan also had been administrator of her husband's estate for 10 years.

Attorneys for the defendant told Alameda County Superior Court he would surrender to the sheriff Monday. Judge William McGuiness set bail at $10,000.

Among the heirs is Mrs. Lillian Searle of Novato.

Look what's happened around you!
New taxes. Higher taxes.
New homes. Higher homes.
Cars, kids, radios, petitions, charity drives.
Makes you want to run.
But how? To where?

30 or 35 minutes from here there's a secret place, in the hills that guard the Valley of the Moon. Nine more outsiders can still get in on a lot—as much as 2½ acres. Land like this you only see in movies about beavers and dogs and barefoot boys. Some of it lies flat under the shade of great oaks. Other lots slope. All of them look down on a valley full of golfers, hot springs, history and higher prices.

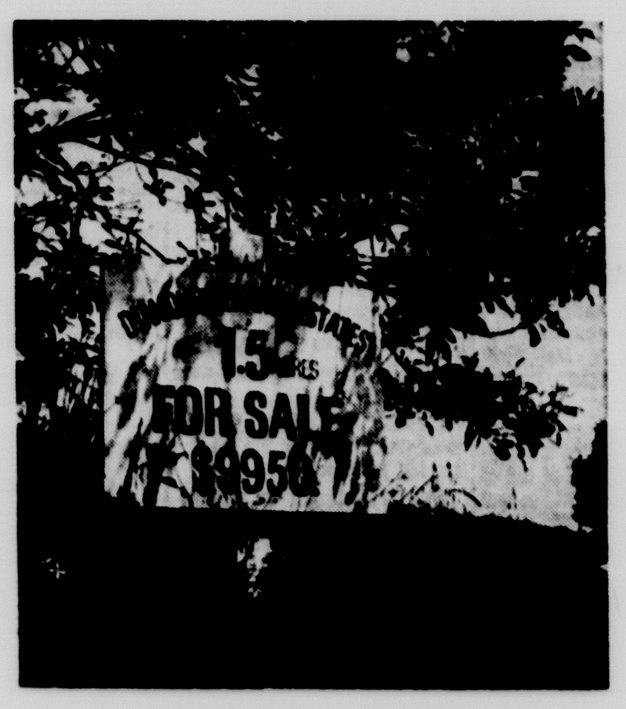
You'd want a horse here. You could afford a horse here! Just on what you'd save on taxes alone. There's a swimming pool. Brand new pink and green championship tennis courts. Big barbecue area for chuck wagon feeds.

And, when you want to bring friends up (out of the fog!) there will be a place for socializing: the Riding & Racquet Club (which may sound like a strange combination, but not up here). The Clubhouse will utilize the original ranch house which is complete with stables and exercise corral.

This is the Diamond A Ranch; once a working ranch, now a place certain kinds of people live a certain kind of life... people who understand Jack London and prefer Walt Whitman to e. e. cummings.

Already 102 families have decided they wouldn't wait for father to retire before they began to live loose. The children smell like horses and they fight and scream. But it seems alright here. Diamond A is big enough to take it.



What about commuting? Well, what about it? Instead of four lanes that go 5 m.p.h. you have two lanes that move as fast as you like. San Rafael is a pleasant 30-minute sedan ride away. And would you believe it: some of us drive into San Francisco every day.

If it happens you are too late for one of the remaining 9 lots, don't go away forever. Diamond A will have new estate sites for sale by summer. Naturally we can't promise that prices won't do what they always do.

Around here it always costs money to wait.

Judge Orders Ruling Favoring Bartenders

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday directed a jury to rule in favor of a bartenders and culinary workers' insurance group in its seven-year battle against Irving B. Litchfield of Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

The judge said the instructed verdict was a matter of law, despite the trial having gone three days before the jury.

Trustees of Marin County Culinary Workers Group Insurance Fund had sued Litchfield for health and welfare fund money they alleged he failed to pay after agreeing to do so.

Litchfield claimed he had overpaid the group, and would not pay the fund—53 cents per employee for each day's shift—until he was reimbursed.

Judge Wilson said testimony disclosed the collective bargaining agreement between the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union Local 126, and Litchfield was valid, and called for the payment.

He ordered an accounting to determine the amount due the plaintiff. They asked about $8,000.

Cocktail Lounge Sued For Song Performances

A suit charging a San Rafael cocktail lounge with illegal performances of four popular songs was filed yesterday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

The suit was brought by Broadcast Music Inc., national licensing and royalty collection agent for some 20,000 composers, lyricists and music publishers.

BMI charged Di Pietra's at 1 Vivian Way with presenting a quartet's performance on Jan. 1 of "More," "Honky Tonk," "Dawn" and "Kansas City," without a license from BMI.

If the charge is proved, the cocktail lounge faces minimum damages of $250 for each infringment, or a minimum total of $1,000.

BMI also asked the court to enjoin Di Pietra's from further playing of BMI-controlled music without a license from the agency.

Auer To Stay On Job In Bolinas District

sheet of paper, circulated in the crowd, saying they agree to attend one or more meetings to combat the spread of apathy in the community toward its schools.

4. It was decided there should be more printed communication between board and public.

5. Mrs. Roberta Patterson, with a captive audience, made a pitch for more people to join the Parent-Teachers Club.

Mrs. Alyce Thompson, board president, opened the meeting saying, "We could be remembered as a community that cares . . . or as witch hunters."

Richard V. Godino, deputy county council, said the board might discuss what it had talked about in closed sessions with Auer, and Auer's letter granting his permission was read. Trustees had said Tuesday night they would not discuss specific charges against Auer without his being present. The superintendent-principal was there last night.

Mrs. Mendonca first mentioned Auer's "disorganization and not scheduling time to the fullest." Then, she said, "Perhaps I was hasty. We were talking about a woodshop project. From there tempers flew."

"It was stated by the board there was not to be a wood shop. Mr. Auer ordered tools (two electric saws). This was the thing which really sort of started it."

Mrs. Mendonca said she also suggested that Auer look into sending pupils to Camp Lokoya in Napa County, but he proposed a camp in Lake County.

"I had the feeling that, even if this board wanted it, if he could not have his program, that there wasn't going to be any program," she said.

Carpenter admitted to errors by the board and said the first closed session was "a surprise to Peter." He read his 10 points and said he felt Auer should stay or resign on the basis of being able to help the school as it ought to be.

George Gianola proclaimed Carpenter's statement "one of the most reasonable" he had heard since the whole episode began. He said if it were accepted by the board, he would withdraw his demand made Tuesday that the three appointed members of the board resign. Grant Smith, in the audience, said he was in accord.

Trustee John Collingwood said Auer had not cooperated in providing information. "I'm willing to work with the administrator but want him to work with me, too."

Trustee Roberta Shockey said "General lack of organization and scheduling and supervision has created a loosely knit school."

Mrs. Shockey said the board did not act on the resignation in haste. Here she was interrupted by Chairman Thompson, who said Mrs. Shockey could not bring up something not already discussed in closed session and refused to allow her to go on.

After the meeting Mrs. Shockey said she would like the public to know her last sentence: "We are grateful for Mr. Auer's presence tonight in order that the full picture may be presented to the public."

Mrs. Thompson said she alone in closed session voted against accepting Auer's resignation. She said no one had even given Auer any instructions about anything.

At one point Carpenter told the audience he is not sure what the community wants. "This is one reason I'm here, to see that we do what many of you would like. Do you want a curriculum of general enrichment and high excellence or status quo and a baby sitting operation?"

Gianola answered, "I don't think status quo is what we want. We would rather see slow, responsible growth."

H. C. Ellis, in the audience, praised Auer's abilities and said he felt the community as a whole may not be represented by the board, but said there were "possibly honest mistakes on either side."

"If he withdraws would you offer him a year's contract?" asked Mrs. Robert Grey, and Carpenter said, "Yes, with good grace."

A five-minute recess was called for Auer to consider the question. At 10:45 p.m. the board reconvened and Carpenter read this note from Auer: "I hereby rescind my resignation tendered to the board on April 13. Peter Auer." The crowd applauded.

The board then set May 11 for its next meeting to discuss salaries and budget. The board meets at 8 p.m. at Bolinas School.

Auer then made a statement, saying, "I think I have learned the meaning of the word humility in the last few weeks." He told the audience: "There is no one in the business of education that is absolutely assured they do any kind of perfect job. I am probably the least assured. He said there has been a lack of communication on his part.

"I feel something very wonderful happened here tonight," said Mrs. Thompson.

Prying Boys Reported Surprised

Pearson R. Knight told sheriff's officers he surprised two youths attempting to pry open a washing machine coin box in the apartment building where he lives at 741 Drake Avenue, Marin City, but they fled.

No loss was reported.

Jack Barrett, foreman for Linscott Construction Co. of San Francisco, told deputies someone forced the door of a construction shack near Lucas Valley Road and Highway 101 and stole several hammers and wrenches.

Audrey M. Laffitte, 357 Mount Shasta Drive, Marinwood, reported burglars forced the lock of a tack room, making off with $54 worth of riding gear.

John L. Bricker, 421 East Strawberry Drive, Strawberry, said his front door was forced. Only item missing, however, was a bar of soap.

across a frontier. But this does not include a deliberate strike at an enemy base — the no sanctuary policy.

In explaining the distinction, U.S. officials cited the Korean war. Then U.S. planes flew across the Yalu River into Chinese air space during running engagements, they said, but the United States held to the sanctuary principle, barring attacks on the Chinese mainland.

But Red China will risk retaliations on her home territory if she intervenes in the Viet Nam conflict, officials said. They added, however, that U.S. forces would counterattack across the Chinese border only after a careful decision high in the U.S. government.

America's ambassador to South Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge leaves behind his fortress-like embassy in steaming Saigon and the largest American military civilian force in any foreign country to head home tomorrow.

He has promised to return in two to three weeks. Rumors that he plans to resign have been denied.

The war fever "is only just now getting under way," Fulbright, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told a dinner meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers Association's Bureau of Advertising.

"But, as the war goes on, as the casualty lists grow longer and affect more and more American homes, the fever will rise and the patience of the American people will give way to mounting demands for an expanded war, for a lightning blow that will get it over with at a stroke."

"The first demand," Fulbright went on, "might be a blockade of Haiphong; then, if that doesn't work, a bombing raid on Hanoi; and if that doesn't work, a strike against China; and then we will have a global war."

The state department's explanation on China's risk and high level decisions was given to about 700 of the nation's editors and broadcasters attending a two-day State Department briefing on foreign policy.

projections and the college is getting further behind each year in facilities.

Among the reasons for the increased growth he listed were:

New federal programs, including the G.I. Bill.

Limiting of enrollment by four-year colleges and universities.

Expanded curriculum at the college, and completion of new facilities.

The increased cost of attending college away from home.

Duke said the capital outlay financing problems "are of extreme importance to the college and its future."

He did not recommend that the board take any action, commenting, "We're several months away from that kind of decision."

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, board chairman, called it deplorable that the board did not have a broad representation of the public present to hear Duke's report on "a major item of concern to the district."

The board authorized Mrs. Deedy to appoint a citizen advisory committee and a board committee to study the financing problem.

"We have to get the public actively involved," said Trustee Aobert E. Rogers.

Novato's Fire Captain Quits For Ill Health

Capt. George R. Hale has resigned from the Novato Fire Department, because of ill health.

Hale suffered a heart attack on Jan. 28 and has not been able to work since. A letter from Dr. Leo Wagner confirmed that Hale, 45, would not be able to do the strenuous work of a fireman. Hale had been a volunteer fireman, and started full time with the department on July 1, 1953.

The Novato Fire District Board accepted the resignation Wednesday night.

It also approved specifications for an aerial truck and called for bids to be opened at 8 p.m. on June 22.

The board will meet next on May 4, a week ahead of the regular meeting date.

ed. Fisher said the change would be that Moore was to be fired. Graves was ill at the time.

Seventy-seven of the approximately 230 fulltime seminary students signed a petition backing Moore and gave it to seminary president Graves on April 21.

Moore came to the seminary two years ago and was assigned a place on the staff between instructor and professor, expecting to be named an assistant professor on completion of his Ph. D. work this spring in historical theology at Claremont Graduate School at Claremont, Los Angeles County. He taught systematic theology, a required course.

More was termed by one colleague a "brilliant" theologian.

Another seminary employee sympathetic to the rights work was Carl M. Halvarson, assistant to Graves since 1960, he was replaced in January by Stanton Nash.

Wife-Beating Charge Arrest

A 35-year-old unemployed Greenbrae man was booked in county jail today on a citizen's arrest alleging felony wife-beating.

Lila S. Drew, who signed the complaint, told sheriff's officers her husband, Richard Lawrence Drew, 35, of 100 Greenbrae Boardwalk, struck her over the right eye and on the upper lip when they returned home about 11:30 p.m.

He left, she said, but returned at 5:30 a.m. today and again assaulted her. She notified sheriff's officers and Drew was jailed.

Brose Travels For Plan Work

Supt. Howard F. Brose of West Marin School District was in Sacramento today with the working plans for improvements at West Marin School a few hours after the district board approved them.

Meeting last night, board members authorized the drawings to be sent to the state Division of Architecture and School Planning for approval.

The board authorized sale of the $246,000 bond issue approved nine days ago by district voters.

Improvements at the school are to consist of a library and four new classrooms.

Bradley Can Keep Ballot Designation

William C. Bradley will be permitted to use the title "assistant county coroner-public guardian" on the June 7 primary ballot.

The ruling came at noon today by visiting Judge Richard Chamberlain in Marin Superior Court following a hearing on a charge by one of three other candidates for the office, Richard Frederick Wood, that there is no such title.

Judge Chamberlain declared sufficient evidence was presented by Bradley and his attorney, W. O. Weissich, to clearly establish that Bradley is an assistant to incumbent Frank J. Keaton in all three capacities.

Keaton testified Bradley has done the "exact" same work that he (Keaton) has performed since Bradley's appointment in 1961.

Other candidates are Dr. Donovan O. Cooke and Gilbert F. Freitas.

Cable Worker Hurt As Bus Snags Line

A television cable workman was slightly injured and a tree in a Santa Venetia yard was uprooted when a San Rafael school bus snagged an overhead cable at 2:45 p.m. yesterday on Adrian Way near La Playa Way.

A television cable being stretched across Adrian Way by Comac Signal Corp. of Danville suddenly dipped and was caught in the bus warning lights above the windshield, reported the California Highway Patrol. The bus, driven by Ethel Mary Suhl, 43, of 25 Theresa Court, Novato, dragged the cable and spool attached to it off a truck parked on La Playa.

The cable and spool smashed a redwood fence around the yard of John Riordan at 1099 Adrian Way, yanked out one of his trees, and bent a children's swing set. The spool also damaged a parked car.

Officer Paul E. Zensius of the highway patrol reported that Victor Zimblis, 25, of 1436 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was treated at the scene for a hurt thumb. The bus was full of children but none of them was injured.

damaged 40 to bring the tally in the three-day campaign against the junks to 276 destroyed and 201 damaged. Hanoi began turning to junks when air raids blocked the north end of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

In Saigon, the assassination of a political leader in Da Nang and angry exchanges between Buddhist and Catholic leaders threatened South Viet Nam today with a new wave of political unrest.

But a tense situation that threatened to embroil American troops in Saigon eased when government officials convinced Buddhist students a Vietnamese guard and not a G.I. killed one of their classmates. The students called off anti-American demonstrations.

The official killed in Da Nang was Phan Thuyet, chief of the Viet Nam Quoc Dan Dang pro-military political party. He was shot to death by two men on a bicycle Wednesday night while he was going home from a political meeting.

U.S. planes also attacked military targets in North Viet Nam yesterday, destroying two anti-aircraft sites and damaging two others.

Fighters from the carriers Enterprise, Kitty Hawk and Hancock hit the junk fleet late yesterday in North Vietnamese waters a short distance from the demarcation line between North and South Viet Nam.

OBITUARY

Doris Alexander, 66, Actress, Dies Alone

Doris Louise Alexander Dempsey, daughter of a famous actress and a Sioux Indian chief, died Saturday and was buried yesterday in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

At the graveside of the former actress and circus bareback rider were two mourners: a social worker, and a recent acquaintance. The County of Marin paid for her funeral. Her grave bears no marker.

No one knows where her three children are, and a few boxes of old clothes, newspaper clippings, photographs and her wedding rings are all they will inherit.

Mrs. Alexander died in Terra Linda Valley Hospital after nearly two years in hospitals. The County Social Services (Welfare) Department had known her for much longer; they have four volumes of files on her case. Now social worker Mrs. Mary Cutler is trying to locate relatives to settle the estate.

A colorful — and in recent years, eccentric — figure, Mrs. Alexander had lived in Marin for 32 years. She used to ride in parades dressed as an Indian. For several years she lived in a trailer in Sausalito, and then at 304 First Street, San Rafael.

Born in 1899, she was the daughter of White Feather, chief of the Sioux Indian tribe, and an actress, who later became Isabelle Ayers on marrying Dudley Ayers, an actor.

According to welfare department files, she spent her childhood in convent schools in Switzerland and England, and in her teens performed as a bareback rider at circuses. At that time her mother sold an interest in the Empress Theater in Vancouver, and purchased the Gelby Theater in Oakland.

In 1915, she eloped with a young actor, Ross Alexander, who later became a star of silent and early talking pictures. The couple had three children, Ross Jr., Lorianna and Merrell.

The oldest son, Ross, was adopted by his grandmother, and became known as Charles Ayers. He is reportedly living in the Bay Area. Merrell was killed in the war; and the daughter's address isn't known.

After Alexander's death in the 1930's, Mrs. Alexander married Louis Dempsey, from whom she was later divorced. In recent years she had reverted to being known as Alexander.

Mrs. Helen Brown, social worker at Terra Linda Valley Hospital, attended yesterday's funeral.

Also at the graveside rite was Mrs. Vivienne Fenton, who met Mrs. Alexander while visiting San Rafael General Hoospital last year. "She was buried in a beautiful place," said Mrs. Fenton today. "But it seems a shame we were the only people. And no one even knows who's buried there."

Fire District Slates Land Acquisition

Tamalpais Fire District directors last night made final plans for purchase of a lot next to the Tamalpais Valley Fire Station from Mill Valley builder Harry M. Johnson for $16,750, to be used for future firehouse expansion.

Commissioners approved a preliminary 1967 budget of $164,064, a hike of $16,312 over the current budget. Increase is reflected in increments in firemen's salaries and water main expansion. Tax rate, now 82 cents per $100 assessed valuation, cannot be determined at this time, said Chairman Carl H. Modell.

Modell was re-elected as commission chairman, Byron Boulware as secretary, and Morris Batz as treasurer.

The board heard that structural fire loss in 1965 in the district was $43,074 while vehicle loss by fire was $1,615.

Church Of England Considers Grammar

LONDON (AP) — The Church of England is considering changing some Elizabethan phrases in its version of the Lord's Prayer to conform with modern grammar.

The contemplated revisions are "Our Father which art in heaven" to "Our Father Who art in heaven"; the phrase "In earth as it is in heaven" to "On earth as it is in heaven"; and "Them that trespass" to "Those who trespass."

Funeral for John Clifford Powers, 55, of 25 Alvarado Avenue, Mill Valley, will be Monday at 2 p.m. at the N. Gray Chapel, 4000 19th Avenue, San Francisco.

Powers died early yesterday at his hime.

According to the coroner's office, Powers' daughter and sole survivor, Joan Marie Powers, 17, was asleep in her own bedroom when gasps from her father's room awakened her. She called the fire department, and firemen applied a resuscitator, but Powers was pronounced dead at his home by Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley at 7:15 a.m.

An autopsy showed the cause of death was a heart attack.

Powers was born in Illinois, and had lived in Mill Valley for about three years. He had retired from the Army, after 27 years of service, as a first lieutenant.

NEW LOOK FOR SAFETY

Congress yesterday was urged to finance the completion of New York's prototype safety car. Now in design and mockup stage, the car contains such structural revisions and new features as rounded corners on shock-absorbing bumpers, roll bars to prevent the top from crushing and a pylon on top for periscopic rear viewing. The plan was presented by New York State Sen. Edward J. Speno. (UPI Telephoto)

Four Named To Academies By Clausen

Four Marin County youths have been appointed to U.S. service academies, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, announced today.

Scott Robert Bulfinch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent R. Bulfinch of 3 Carmel Drive, Novato, was ordered to report to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., on June 29.

Roger Patrick Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Jacobs of 287 Knight Drive, San Rafael, qualified as Clausen's first alternate for the Naval Academy and received a presidential appointment. He was also ordered to report June 29.

David Lodge Hiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton L. Hiller of 39 Truman Drive, Novato, was directed to report to the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N.Y., Aug 21.

Danny Lee Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Orr of 33 Carlson Avenue, San Anselmo, also was selected for the Merchant Marine Academy beginning Aug. 21.

Selections were made by Clausen after recommendations were presented by a 12-man screening committee, appointed by the congressman. The screening committee is chairmaned by Capt. Weaver Meadows of San Anselmo.

Christopher Tells Why He's Best Man

Former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher last night told a Marin audience that his long experience in business and government best qualifies him for the governorship.

The man who started from scratch to build up a highly successful dairy business declared: "I've been in the thick of trying to meet payrolls and competing with other businessmen. There is no such thing as instant knowledge or instant experience."

Christopher declared that constantly rising taxes make it essential that a man with practical business experience and fiscal responsibility go to Sacramento to "hold the line" on spending and pare the budget.

He got a standing ovation from a crowd of 200 at $25 per couple dinner at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Christopher accused Gov. Edmund G. Brown of parceling out lucrative state jobs for his political friends. "Governor Brown seems to think this great state of ours is his own personal mother lode. He will take care of not only his relatives but his political cohorts."

Christopher said all polls show that he is the only Republican candidate who can beat both Governor Brown and Samuel Yorty, who is seeking to wrest the Democratic nomination from the incumbent.

The speaker criticized the Democratic administration for lack of effective action against crime and student riots. Free speech and exchange of ideas is fine, said Christopher, but there is a difference between free speech and obscenity. "We must have discipline in the universities, and that goes for faculty as well as students."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, introduced Christopher as "the epitome of experience wrapped in sound Republican principles."

"With Christopher our nominee," Bagley predicted, "we'll win by 600,000 votes."

Charles Michals of Greenbrae, director of the Christopher campaign in Marin, was master of ceremonies.

Ball Predicted To Quit Post

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe said today Undersecretary of State George W. Ball will resign before the end of summer.

Ball, asked in Washington about the report, said he had no plans to leave his post. "I am not prepared to confirm" the story, he said.

He added that he would "of course at some point return to private life" after having served for so long in the State Department. He was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy.

CARRYING COMMUNIST FLAG

Demonstrators carry a Communist banner during a march yesterday in Santa Domingo on the first anniversary of the U.S. Marine landing on the island of the Dominican Republic. U.S. troops fired on demonstrators last night and wounded six persons after three shots came from the crowd at a U.S. observation post. Explosions were heard later. (UPI Telephoto)

Draft Limiting Asked By Father

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., claims that large families—especially from minority groups—are bearing the brunt of the draft. He wants revisions in the rules.

In a letter to Selective Service Director Lt. Genl Lewis B. Hershey yesterday, Carey proposed establishing a rule that only one son at a time serve. He said it was about time the nation began to appreciate the contribution large families are making to national security.

Carey is the father of 10.

Names of regional chairmen in the campaign of John F. McInnis for county supervisor were announced today by campaign chairman Jack G. Nixon.

They are: Glenwood—John T. Schmitz; Fairhills—Edwin W. Thomas; Lincoln Avenue — Frank A. Tallarida; Los Ranchitos—Mrs. Gimi Sessi; Lower Lucas Valley—Robert C. McAbee, and Villa Real—Mrs. Ronald McLennan.

GNOSS ENDORSED

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs has endorsed William A. Gnoss of Novato, who is seeking re-election as supervisor from the Fifth District. Lynes Downing is trying to unseat Gnoss.

LYNCH RECEPTION

Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch will be honored at a Tiburon reception on May 7.

Congressmen May Take Viet Junkets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is passing the word from Saigon that the political situation there is stable enough now to permit congressional trips to resume.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of a House subcommittee planning such a trip, relayed Lodge's appraisal of the situation today. He said his subcommittee now expects to go to South Viet Nam May 6.

United GOP Ready To Back Reagan

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Ronald Reagan headed for Bakersfield today to pick up a political prize long set aside for him—endorsement by the United Republicans of California in his campaign for governor.

About 2,000 GOP workers gathered in what was expected to be the year's largest meeting of Republican volunteers, the ones who will push doorbells, organize coffee klatches and attend to the many details of helping the party's candidates this year.

Attention will center tomorrow on appearances of the four GOP gubernatorial hopefuls—Reagan, George Christopher, William Penn Patrick of Tiburon and Warren Dorn.

Christopher, Reagan's chief foe, has said he expects the actor to win the endorsement, since UROC leaders "were committed to Reagan long before they knew who was running for governor."

Patrick and Dorn, distinct underdogs in the race, were expected to attract some support, but far from the two-thirds majority required to endorse.

MUSIC REVIEW

Opera Workshop Singing Excellent

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Some excellent singing, together with vivid acting, marked the College of Marin Opera Workshop productions of two one-act operas in Olney Hall last night.

Again the sure hand of director Peggy Donovan was evident in the thoroughly prepared presentations of Puccini's tragedy, "The Cloak," and contemporary English composer Lennox Berkeley's comedy, "A Dinner Engagement."

Top vocal honors in "The Cloak" (and of the entire evening), went to the gifted, blonde and beautiful soprano, Sydney Peterzon as Georgette, and bass George Baker as her husband Michele. Their clear diction was especially commendable.

The major virtue of tenor Kenneth Rowland, who did a yeoman's job of singing leading roles in both operas, was in his convincing acting as the lover Luigi, but the intensity of his involvement in character and situation still results in vocal strain.

Soprano Margaret Lee's singing of the role of Frugola was pleasing for its warm mezzo quality, but diction was not always understandable.

Performing well in minor roles were Regina Knight, Leslie Retallick, Patricia Roberts, Anna Secrist, Carolyn Wisell, Kay Collette, Thomas Brennan, Wyn Brown, Kermit Kors, Chew Pah Lim and John Glenister.

Two pianos played by Peggy Donovan and assistant director Larry Snyder enhanced the musical values of the work.

Sharing credit fairly evenly for the success of the comedy "A Dinner Engagement," were baritone Thomas Ingram, a handsome and vigorous Earl of Dunmow; soprano Selyna Harris, his charming countess; soprano Carolyn Wiswell, their pert daughter Susan; soprano Lorie Kutsko, a natural comedienne as the servant Mrs. Kneebone; Rosemary Bryans as the Grand Duchess of Monteblanco, and Kenneth Rowland as her son, Prince Phillipe, who was more relaxed in this role.

Rosemary Bryan has an exceptionally good mezzo voice. Thomas Brennan as an errand boy was comic.

Peggy Donovan and Phyllis Murphy provided the spirited double pianos accompaniment for this work.

Sets for both operas by James Stewart were as good as any that could be constructed within the limits of Olney Hall.

Arthur Conrad was the guest stage director for "The Cloak."

Both operas will be performed again tonight and tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in Olney Hall, with some changes in the casts.

Balloonist Says He'll Try Again

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "We expected a little hard luck, but not quite this extensive," said Tracy Barnes as he reflected on his attempts to make the first transcontinental hot-air balloon flight.

Barnes, 27, of Chester, S.C., sustained a wrenched back Wednesday when his balloon crashed for the second time, but said his trip is only postponed, not cancelled.

"It'll just take awhile to get the balloon back in shape. An awful lot of damage has been done," he said Thursday from his hospital bed in nearby La Jolla.

Princess In Hospital For Fractured Nose

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne entered a hospital today for treatment of her broken nose.

The princess, 15, fractured her nose last Tuesday when she was thrown from her horse during a hunting outing. Since then she had been at Sandringham, the royal family's estate in County Norfolk.

Two Women Killed In Crash Near Ukiah

UKIAH (AP)—An automobile-lumber truck collision 12 miles south of Ukiah yesterday on U.S. 101 killed two elderly women from Portland, Ore.

Dead were Hilda Anthony, 72, and Ida Mae McMeekin, 79, occupants of a northbound car that sideswiped with a southbound truck driven by Jesse Ross, 48, of Fresno, who suffered minor injuries.

Houseboat Fire Damage: $5,000

Damage estimated at $5,000 was caused last night by a fire which swept a houseboat owned by Charles A. Whitlock Jr. at Gate Six, Sausalito.

Marin County firemen were hampered by bursting hoses as they fought the blaze for 30 minutes. Assisted by a pumper from Sausalito Fire Department and several youths from Marin City, they were able to keep the flames from spreading and seriously damaging other boats tied up alongside.

A witness, George Kaplanis of Tiburon, said he and a friend, Basil Scourbys of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, were leaving Sausalito by car when they saw the boat "mushroom up in flame."

They stopped and ran to see if anyone was inside, but were unable to get near the boat due to heat.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom reported no one was home when the alarm was turned in at 11:25 p.m.

"If it hadn't been for about six Negro boys," said Kaplanis, "four or five of those houseboats would have gone up. We broke into one boat and got pots and pans and plastic buckets to keep a second boat from catching fire."

As it was, the other boat suffered about $500 damage, according to Bloom. He gave the owner's name as D. Humphrey.

First fire unit to arrive, said Kaplanis, was a one-man truck. Its hose broke soon after the driver turned the water on, he said. As other trucks arrived, two more hoses burst from the pressure, according to Kaplanis.

The boat burned to the water line.

Danger to other boats was increased by an incoming tide which pushed the burning boat closer to them, Kaplanis said.

Bloom said he was unsure of the fire's cause, and planned to investigate it further today.

At one point, nearly a dozen motorists pulled off nearby Highway 101 to watch the fire. They were told to move on by the California Highway Patrol.

Crowd Packs Dinner For Bruce Bales

A crowd of about 265 jammed Peacock Gap Country Club last night at a $25-per-couple dinner in honor of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

During his 12 years in the district attorney's office, Bales said he has tried to live by these principles:

Prosecute vigorously but fairly, and represent all the people.

Among speakers who praised Bales's work as district attorney were former Judge Jordan L. Martinelli and two former district attorneys; William O. Weisich and Roger P. Garety.

Among letters and telegrams read at the dinner was one from Dist. Atty. Keith Sorensen of San Mateo County, who described Bales as "an excellent lawyer, responsible public official and a fine man."

Frank Dill of Peacock Gap, a radio announcer, was master of ceremonies.

Bales, 42, was hired as deputy district attorney in 1953, became assistant district attorney in 1960, and then district attorney in April of 1964. This is his first try for a full, four-year term as district attorney.

Reed School Board Attacks Unruh Act

The Reed School District board decided last night to see if other districts would join it in a suit to test the constitutionality of a provision of the Uuruh Education Act.

The board decided to test the constitutionality of a section that takes away state funds from districts voting against unification, Supt. Edward C. Pino reported.

"We had $70,000 taken away from us last year," Pino said.

Districts voting for unification get a bonus from a county-wide tax under the Unruh Act; those opposing are penalized.

"The board feels that there is no precedence in American history" for such penalties, Pino said.

The board appointed chairman David D. Ring and Mrs. Alyce Farkes to find out if other districts would be interested in a joint suit against the state. The board decided the Reed district could not sue alone, Pino reported.

The Reed School District board also:

1. Decided to form citizen committees for plant and finance and for facility planning, to ascertain the district's school construction needs for the next five years. It appointed Ring and Pino to draw up a definite plan for the committees and formulate a list of citizens who would serve.

2. Appointed Pino and Mrs. Farkas to develop a draft of a five-year progress report to be published in the fall for a cost of about $250.

3. Deferred action on a sabbatical leave request by Helen Kluchnik, sixth grade teacher at Bel Aire School, for further study.

4. Decided tentatively to change the May meeting schedule and meet May 17 and 31.

International Week Scheduled

Redwood High School is planning an International Week beginning Monday, which will focus on the international exchange students attending the school.

Each country represented by an exchange student will be honored one day during that week, and Thursday will be the annual "Bermuda Day."

Jackie Crisp, chairman of the organization committee, said the idea for the project came from a recent School Affiliation Service conference in San Luis Obispo.

More Cited In Burglaries

Corte Madera police yesterday cited four more boys—two from Larkspur and two from Corte Madera—on charges of burglary stemming from police discovery of a "fort" where youths stored liquor allegedly taken in burglaries.

Police said one of the boys booked at juvenile hall Wednesday for his part in the burglaries has begun informing on his friends.

The youth reportedly said two of the boys involved in the burglary ring stole a woman's purse from a car in front of the Corte Madera Post Office. One of those two has also been stealing from newspaper racks and another, he said, has taken about 30 record albums from the W. T. Grant Co. store in the Corte Madera center.

Three of the youths cited yesterday were aged 15 and one, 16.

Police said the boys, all students at Redwood High School, were responsible for four house burglaries in Corte Madera during April.

The burglary ring came to light Monday when police, looking for a runaway Corte Madera boy, found a wooden "fort" on mudflats opposite Redwood High School

Larkspur Will Provide For Emotional Children

Larkspur School District trustees last night agreed that, if the necessity should arise, Larkspur will join with the Kentfield School District to establish a class at Adaline E. Kent School for no more than 10 emotionally or neurologically handicapped children.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said he does not yet know whether the class will have to be formed next fall. It will depend, he said, on the number of enrolling children who need the service.

Trustees also heard from district psychologist Lynn Jenks on tests of reading ability in first, second, third and sixth grades, plus achievement test in sixth grade, now required by the state. Jenks said the district will also give a reading readiness test in kindergarten and an achievement test in fourth grade.

Larkspur School District trustees also:

1. Acknowledged receipt of a federal grant of $2,624 for purchase of about 700 library books.

2. Approved a $175 contract with the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael for museum services to science classes.

3. Heard from Cohen that all 79 teaching assignments in the district for next year have been filled.

Board Chairman John R. Cunningham was absent.

Animal Shelter Tours Planned

The Humane Society of Marin invites residents to tour the animal shelter at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, next week, in celebration of National Be Kind to Animals Week.

Professor Is Buying Hopps Home

The Belvedere mansion built by Stewart Hopps in 1952 for a reputed half-million dollars, unoccupied since it was taken by Hopp's attorney in 1962, may soon be owned by Michael Scriven, a visiting professor of philosophy at University of California.

Dr. Scriven confirmed today that the house is in escrow, and that the agreed price is $160,000.

When Hopps' attorneys, J. W. Ehrlich and Eugene Clifford of San Francisco, took the house along with $643,470 in encumbrances in lieu of payment for legal services, they said they hoped to sell it for "around one million dollars."

Although the price has dropped to $160,000, Scriven, asked where a college professor gets that kind of money, said, "He inherits it."

Scriven is a native of Australia, and came to the United States in 1952. He is now an naturalized American citizen. He has a doctor of philosophy degree from Oxford University and in the United States has taught at Stanford University, Harvard, Swarthmore, and the Universities of Indiana and Minnesota.

Scriven, a sports enthusiast, said he plans to build a dock below the now-quiet waterfall which spills into a pool at the edge of Richardson's Bay behind the mansion. He will keep his tamaran at the new dock.

The one-bedroom luxury home was designed by architect Robert Stanton. Its extensive grounds are landscaped in Japanese style.

60 YEARS AGO

Giari Fete Marks Italian Wedding

A marriage that started 60 years ago in Italy was honored at a dinner party last night at Nero's Restaurant in Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulvio Giari of 1859 Marion Avenue, Novato, observed their 60th wedding anniversary in the company of their four children and closest neighbors.

As another day to observe, Mrs. Giari had her 81st birthday Wednesday.

The romance that started the marriage that has lasted so long began between Fulvio Giari and Domenica Scapesi in their native Genoa. The lovers waited until the day after Domenica became 21 to get married, on April 28, 1906.

Their eldest daughter, Helen, now Mrs. William Napier of 1021 Simmons Lane, Novato, was born in Genoa. Giari worked in construction work there, but longed for a better life in the new world.

He left his wife of one year and infant daughter and came to San Francisco in 1907 where he worked as a janitor. It took him four years to save the money to send for his wife and baby and his wife's uncle, Anthony Scopesi, now retired and living in Pacifica.

In those four years in San Francsico, what started out as a slight infection cost Giari his hearing.

When his wife arrived from Italy, she was shocked to find her husband totally deaf. He has never heard the voice of any of his children.

In addition to Helen, three sons were born to them. John Francis, who lives next door to his parents at 1861 Marion Avenue, Fred A. of Pasadena, and Joseph J., who lives with his parents. They also have 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Although deaf, Girai went to work in the gas division of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael in 1917, the family moving to San Rafael. They purchased three acres on Marion Avenue in Novato in 1937 and have lived at the same address since. He retired from PG & E in 1946.

Since retirement, he has enjoyed his two hobbies, fishing and gardening. Although now 85 years old, he has a huge garden, which includes, among other things, 127 tomato plants.

Mrs. Giari still keeps house and does all her canning of the products of the garden each year, including special Italian sauces which cannot be bought in any store. Helen claims her mother can make the best ravioli in seven states.

60th ANNIVERSARY—Still active at their Novato home are Mr. and Mrs. Fulvio Giari after 60 years of married life. Mrs. Giari does all of her own housework and a great amount of canning each year, while her husband tends a big garden and fruit trees at their three-acre home on Marion Avenue. Talks Continue On Milk Drivers

OAKLAND (UPI) — Talks continued today in an effort to head off a strike by 4,000 milk truck drivers and dairy workers which could affect deliveries of milk from Salinas to Marin County.

No progress was made in Thursday's talks, according to a spokesman for Teamsters Local 302.

The union said Tuesday that talks regarding a new contract had bogged down after three weeks of bargaining.

All Marin's milk workers would go on strike if one is called, a Teamster Union spokesman, James Conohan, said in San Francisco. Dairy employees in Marin belong to Local 624 of the Union.

Unruh Sees Lack In Legislature

HARRIMAN, N. Y. (AP) — Jesse M. Unruh, Democratic speaker of the California State Assembly, says state legislatures lack the necessary powers and prestige to properly fulfill their role in government.

Terming legislatures the branch which "principally distinguishes a democracy from a dictatorship," he said yesterday. They "must be given the tools, the status and the opportunity to continue that distinction."

Unruh told a meeting of the American Assembly, a privately financed national educational organization, that better government would result if "the state's executive has to face the challenge of an equipped and enlightened" legislature.

Construction Company Gets Sewer Warning

Another showdown came last night in the long-running dispute between Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District and Kirkwood-Bly, Inc., of Santa Rosa, contractor for a sewer improvement job in Gallinas Village.

In repairing the forced main laid across the south fork of Gallinas Creek, new leaks developed, District Secretary Helen Foulkes reported. The contractor blamed it on faulty engineering. Directors said it was poor construction.

Directors last night issued an ultimatum, that if no step were taken by Kirkwood-Bly to repair the new leaks by noon Monday, the contract could be declared in default, another contractor would be brought in and Kirkwood-Bly charged with all extra costs.

Marinwood Swim Pool Costs Sliced

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night lowered swimming pool membership fees for the summer, hoping for increased participation.

Directors set the family membership fee at $30, a drop of $5 from last year.

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission had recommended a $40 feet, and after restudy, recommended $35, District Secretary Genevieve Bolding reported.

Directors set opening of the pool for May 14, weekends only, with hours from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Daily operation will begin at the close of school.

Directors also agreed to summer recreation programs at Mary E. Silveira and Lucas Valley school playgrounds as well as at the center.

Agriculture Preserve Draws Bianchi's Fire

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, in a talk today before the Novato Rotary Club at the Lodge in Novato today, criticized the Agricultural Preserve Law adopted by the state in 1965.

He said the law established "a gimmick which can provide a tax break for the playboy farmer, while shifting the tax burden to the real farmers and all other property owners."

Novato Man Offers Guilty Check Plea

Charles Robert Coddington, 37, of 756 Diablo Avenue, Novato, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to felony passing of worthless checks.

Judge Peter Allen Smith certified his case to Marin Superior Court for judgment. Coddington, arrested by Larkspur police Wednesday, passed 10 bad checks ranging from $50 to $125 each from March 11 to March 17 with intent to defraud Value World Inc. in Larkspur.

Post Office Warned On Safe Crack Gang

Post offices in Marin County have been alerted by San Rafael police that a gang, expert at cracking open post office safes in Washington and Oregon, may be heading this way.

A message from A. L. Coffey, chief of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, Sacramento, reported the gang appears to be in California heading south on Highway 1.

Well-Heeled Demos At President's Party

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — With the Johnson family in the starring role, cattle barons, oil magnates and party faithful with lesser but adequate purses poured a bundle into the Democratic coffers last night.

Just how much a dinner-dance raised was not announced but it was no small sum.

Some 900 members of the President's Club from five states turned out for the event. But Robert H. Fleming, deputy press secretary, said it did not necessarily mean $900,000 was raised.

Fleming explained that different states have different rules and that some of those on hand had paid their $1,000 in advance. This is the minimum contribution to qualify for the club.

Democratic officials said the event here and similar fundraisers later in Chicago, New York and Los Angeles are expected to wipe out the present Democrat deficit of $31.1 million.

In addition to the President, Mrs. Johnson, and daughters Lynda Bird, 22, and Luci Baines, 18, were on hand. The faithful also got to meet Patrick Joseph Nugent, 22, who is to marry Luci on August 18.

The President obviously enjoyed the party. He did not leave for Washington until 12:50 a.m. EST — 1 hour and 50 minutes after his announced departure time. Mrs. Johnson and Lynda continued on to Austin, Tex.

Planners Seek Building Site

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night recommended city council approval of proposed amendments to the building site requirements ordinance, following a public hearing.

Members voted 4-2 to deny a variance application for building of a duplex by Leonard Nathan on a lot between 59 and 63 Creek Road. Commissioners Leo Cronin and John J. Hourihan voted in favor of the application and Mrs. Harld H. Taft was excused. Footage was under the amount required.

Dale J. Martin of 12 Scenic Drive was granted a permit to operate a business of material disposal from liquidated estates.

A lot split application of Susan Nash Thedy of 31 Pine Drive was denied unanimously as plans did not conform to the city's slope policy.

Plumbers Honor Former Mayor

Former Mayor Edward W. Culver of San Rafael, retired plumbing contractor, was honored last night at a dinner meeting of the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino Counties.

At the dinner at Nero's Restaurant in Ignacio, Culver, former president of the plumbing contractors association, was presented a plaque in recognition of services by Frank Hall, president of the trade group.

The contractors held informal discussion of their 1966 labor contract, presently under negotiation with Plumbers Union Local 38. The contract was extended to June 1 after a nine-day scattered strike in the three counties early in April.

San Francisco Receives Bell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Recreation and Park Department accepted yesterday a replica of Mexico's Liberty Bell, a gift from that nation's President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

The bell, which weighs 1,200 pounds, is to be placed in Mission Dolores Park.

On Sept. 16, 1810, Father Miguel Hidalgo rang the original bell to summon parishoners to the first open protest against Spanish rule.

Hearing Opens On Marincello Court Suit

Hearing began today in Marin Superior Court on a suit aimed at blocking development of Marincello.

The hearing was on request by the City of Sausalito and two couples for a preliminary injunction to prevent the County of Marin from adopting any more resolutions or ordinances enabling Marincello development.

The amended complaint, filed by the city, John P. and Constance L. Erickson, and Herbert and Frances M. Perkins, seeks also to have county rezoning for Marincello nullified.

It alleges the county illegally rezoned the 2,100-acre parcel from residential and agricultural to planned community, and there was insufficient legal notice of a public hearing before the board of supervisors Jan. 19.

It also charges the board made considerable changes in the plan after it was received from the county planning commission.

The largest May Rental Show ever offered by the Marin Society of Artists will open Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Frances Young Gallery, Art and Garden Center, Ross.

According to Adalaine Cadogan and Frank Gusdorf, chairmen, each artist may enter six paintings for jurying. Also for rent or sale will be a wide variety of graphics, sculpture and crafts.

The show will continue through May 29. Gallery hours are 2 to 4 p.m. daily and 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays.

Robert Fulton's "Clermont," though not the first steamboat, proved that steamboats could be commercially successful.

New Rights Measure Is Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hard congressional fight loomed today over the Johnson administration's proposed 1966 Civil Rights Act which includes a controversial fair housing proposal and new weapons against racial terrorism.

"I think we'll get it through, but it will be a tight squeeze," predicted Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee which will begin hearings on the bill next Wednesday.

A number of observers — including Celler — feel the bill has one strike against it already — timing.

"They held it up too long," Celler said. "And that's why it's going to be close."

President Johnson finally sent his latest civil rights package to Capitol Hill yesterday, more than a month after the bill was reported ready.

The death of Celler's wife, the Easter recess, and a complex Supreme Court decision —virtually inviting legislation against Ku Klux Klan-type violence — contributed to the delay.

Some sources said the late arrival of the bill could enhance the chances for success of a Southern filibuster this summer — timed to begin just as the election-minded Congress began looking for an early adjournment.

The bill covers a vast range — from housing, North and South, ao state and federal juries, from the problems of Negro school children to those posed by persons Johnson termed "racial fanatics."

It would provide stiff penalties for racial terrorism and violence, making such acts federal crimes; would ban discrimination in all housing sales, rentals and financing; would forbid discrimination by race or sex in jury selection, and would authorize federal officials to take over local jury selection where discrimination exists.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, pledged to fight the bill. He said it would not be enforced in the North as it would be in the South.

"It is not legislation aimed at desegregation but rather an attempt at forced, massive integration of our schools, hospitals and other facilities without regard to individual rights," Eastland said.

Humane Treatment Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved and forwarded to the Senate a bill designed to curb thefts of dogs and cats for sale to research laboratories and to insure humane treatment of animals used for research.

The vote was 352 to 10. About the only criticism of the bill was that it did not go far enough in protecting animals after they reach laboratories, or that its penalties were too mild.

4,000 Made Homeless In Tashkent Quake

MOSCOW (AP)—About 4,000 families lost their homes in the Tashkent earthquake Tuesday, Tass said today.

The official Soviet news agency gave no figure on the number of persons temporarily left homeless, but from the figure on families it appeared to be at least 10,000.

A 15-day county jail term and three years probation were given Ernest Arthur Hartzell, 31, in Marin Municipal Court yesterday following his guilty plea to molesting a child.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Windjammer Restaurant Sets Sail On Tiburon's Main Street Sunday

Tiburon has one more entrant in its imposing lineup on Main Street dineries—or it will have on May Day, Sunday.

Newest waterside restaurant here is the Windjammer, a close relative of the Dock in more ways than one. It has the same property owner: Fred Zelinsky; same designer: Mario Gaidano; same operator: Ernie Van Asperen. Not to mention the Dock's erstwhile manager Don Altenburg as its head of operations; Aldo Di Pasqua (formerly at the Dock), assistant manager; chef Alan Wong, another transferee—plus assorted personnel trained at the Dock's tables and in its kitchen.

But there the family resemblance has a tendency to blur.

This is a one-story affair at the east end of Main Street, extending (like the Dock) over the water, and in time there should be a scattering of small craft nestled off its outside cocktail deck.

It's more capacious than the Dock, with a two-section dining room that can be used in its entirety for regular visitors or partitioned for one or two extra banquet rooms. Fred Zelinsky claims the credit for its basic design, but says Mario Gaidano put his thoughts down with such uncanny accuracy — he must have used ESP.

A long centrally located bar features a three-masted model windjammer built by George Karitianos. Other restaurant decor includes beam ceilings, a wall covering of tightly woven fiber, shuttered windows, carpeted floor throughout (with one section removable for dancing), large fireplace, polished redwood tables and tiny spotlights overhead. All this bound together in a warmth and comfort that's sure to make it a favorite for both Marin diners-out and the out of town crowd.

The Windjammer will follow a seven-day-a-week schedule from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. for lunch, brunch, dinner and late snacks such as steak sandwich, ham steak and eggs, eggs Vienna and cheese rarebit.

Dinner entrees are mainly in two categories: Seafood specialties and broiler items. Among the former are a mixed platter, rex sole, petrale sole, scallops, oysters, crab, salmon, swordfish, abalone and lobster—all prepared in tantalizing ways by Alan Wong and his staff. From the broiler will come such favorites as New York steaks, filet steaks, lamb chops, chopped sirloin, beef brochettes, plus more seafoods: Prawns bayonette, salmon steak and lobster tail.

Complete dinner prices are not too high—$3.50 to $5.50. Also there are a few a la carte specialties such as New Orleans bouillabaisse, pepper steak, prime rib and steak and lobster. A number of the lunch items are abbreviated versions from the dinner menu.

Oh, yes—one more credit line: Helen Faibish, the graphic designer. Without her work I'm sure the composite picture would be a shade less impressive.

You'll like all of it very much. I did.

THAT NEW RESTAURANT on the Miracle Mile?

Answering continued inquiries from those who seem to have mislaid or passed over my article of a couple of weeks ago, this is the new Restaurant de L'Europe at 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael—almost at the San Anselmo city line. Remember where the Casa Linda used to be? That's the place.

Open for lunches and dinners everyday except Tuesday. And for brunch on Sunday. European food, nicely prepared. A tastefully decorated place. Owners Leo Cantayre and Geofrides Verburg.

SHRIMPS LEAD. Food and wine writer Charles Curtis of the Wine Institute observes that the most popular appetizer in restaurants is the shrimp cocktail. Fruit is next, followed by tomato juice, mixed seafood and herring. Along the line are crabmeat, oysters, clams and citrus juices.

SUGGESTION for a lush dinner dish: Portafolio Milanese at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael. This is a stuffed New York steak. Chef Camille Bamatter stuffs it with smoked prosciutto and a pate of chicken livers. Very popular on weekends.

NOW AT GREGORY'S in the Corte Madera Shopping Center for those middle-of-the-week dinners are some very fine $2.50 and $2.75 specials—such as barbecued spareribs, London broil, veal crossribs—and Gregory's own mixed Bavarian sauerkraut platter, which has four kinds of sausages and smoked pork lion. Matter of fact, the last named dish is going on the menu tonight and will also be available on weekends.

The road work is completed along Paradise Drive, so there's no longer an excuse to avoid this thoroughfare. No problem at all, unless it's uncertainty which is the entrance and which is the exit of the Paradise Shopping Center. But then I have yet to see any shopping center that's much clearer on that subject. You can only learn by constant use.

THIS IS THE START of the busy season for Ondine in Sausalito. More than ever I'd recommend advance reservations for dinner—at any hour.

THERE5S A comparatively new pizza house in the county—opened too late to be listed in our last Marin Dining and Wining Guide. This is Frank's Pizza House at 665 Del Ganado Road.

Psychologist Says Children Getting Ulcers

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A psychologist says many elementary school children throughout the country are on tranquilizers and "an astounding number" also are developing ulcers.

Dr. H. Gerthon Morgan, director of the University of Maryland's Institute of Child Study, said last night that more and more pediatricians are prescribing tranquilizers for academically talented children. He said many of the brighter pupils become quite upset by pressures to attain academic skills and knowledge and often have nightmares because of them. Some even develop ulcers, he said.

He said the problem could be solved by teachers who value the achievements of children as individuals and not in comparison with others.

More Population

BOSTON (AP)—The nation's population will double by the year 2000 and the Gross National Product will be five times greater than it is today, Arthur D. Little, Inc., officials told a meeting of businessmen. U.S. population will reach 358 million and the Gross National Product will be $1.9 trillion.

Daylight savings time started in Europe during World War I.

Park Lease Goes Before Council

The Belvedere City Council Monday night will discuss leasing undeveloped state land between Lagoon Road and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad for a city park.

The council, which will meet at 8 p.m. in Community Hall, is considering leasing the 1,000-foot long strip to clean it up and put playground equipment on it, City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said. The state has a right of way on the property which measures 100 feet at its widest point.

The council will also discuss ways to finance fire main extensions to Cliff, Eucalyptus and Crest roads, all private streets. Recommended by Fire Chief Lawrence T. Mersereau, the mains are estimated to cost $43,000.

Four Marin Flyers To Daedalian Meet

Four Marin County veteran aviators of World War I left yesterday by plane for the annual gathering of the Order of Daedalians in San Antonio, Tex.

Participating in the ceremonies at Kelly Air Force Base will be Charles T. Stoffer of 65 Corte Toluca, Greenbrae; Robin C. Cannon of 890 Tamalpais Avenue, Novato, and J. Russell Cunningham of 575 Virginia Drive and Charles B. Overacker of 13 Reed Ranch Road, both of Tiburon. The Daedalians are officers who flew in the First World War.

in the (Scotty's) Terra Linda Shopping Center.

THE SPECIAL "Tahoe Three-Day Pass" for South Shore, Tahoe ends on May 19, but a year 'round reservation service for south Tahoe motels has been set up by the South Shore chapter of the California Motel Assn. to make it easier for vacationers to book accommodations during the summer.

Mail reservations may be made by writing to South Lake Tahoe Motel Reservation Center, Box PASS, Stateline, Calif. Saves contacting each motel until you manage to find one with a vacancy.

THERE'S A NEW telephone number at El Borro in Tiburon, where a pair of starlings have set up housekeeping in the Spanish lantern over the door. You'll have to look up the new number in the directory. If you call the old one it's simply reported "not in use at this time," leading to the thought that it may be closed—which it is not.

IF YOU DROP in Peacock Gap Country Club these days for lunch or dinner you may just run into Prince Doan who has been playing the course there lately (inside and outside).

I don't know what the prince orders for dinner, but one suggestion is the London mixed grill of chef Jim Davidson. It's already on the favorite list of many.

Dinners are served only on Saturday and Sunday. Lunches every day except Monday.

Farm Youths Given Awards

California Bankers Assn., has presented $400 scholarship to three Marin youths, two members of Future Farmers of America and one 4-H Club member. The scholarships cited outstanding work in clubs and good citizenship.

Eric Angress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Angress, Blake's Landing, Marshall, was the 4-H winner.

LAPLAND HIKE—Carla Erickson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Erickson of Kentfield, laces the boots of Lapp costume she brought back from her eight-week hiking trip in Lapland. Miss Erickson, 25, is a first grade teacher at Marin Country Day School.

Visit To Lapland By Kentfield Teacher

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Schoolteacher Carla Erickson of Kentfield was to do more than paint water colors and take photographs as she trekked 300 miles through little-known Lapland.

She didn't realize it at the start, but she was to help write a book.

Quite by accident, she met English travel writer R. P. Lister along the way, and their travels among the simple, hard-working people in this northern wilderness bordering Russia is told in part of his book, "The Hard Way to Haparanda," recently published in this country.

The book has pride of place with other souvenirs of the trip at Miss Erickson's home at 34 Black Log Road, where she was preparing a talk last week she will give under sponsorship of the Peacock Gap Music Assn., May 15 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

It will be the first time 25-year-old Miss Erickson has talked to a group about the eight weeks she spent in Lapland. She described the trip as "the happiest I have spent any time, anywhere."

She set off alone early in July, 1964, with a pack on her back and a mind determined to know more about the Lap people.

"I was fascinated to know more about how they live. Their family life is so different. They work hard but at the same time are so sincerely happy," she said.

She was a little apprehensive at first about traveling alone. "I grew more confident as time went on and people were so kind to me," she said.

Walking from eight to 20 miles a day, she traveled through the lush green countryside occasionally talking with the people in sign language when her limited Swedish failed. Daytime temperatures averaged 50 degrees.

On board a boat as it crossed a lake about two weeks into the trip, she sought the advice of a stranger about the best maps for the area. The stranger turned out to be Lister.

"He looked so weatherbeaten," she smiled, "that I thought he must be very knowledgeable." He was, for this was his second tour of the country, this time under the sponsorship of his publisher and with the sole purpose of writing a book.

Said Miss Erickson: "It started with walking just a little way together and it ended with the parting of the ways six weeks and a day later. He went on to Greece to collect further book material."

They met few tourists. Although a small number of Danes and Germans went fishing in the lakes, others preferred to travel further south to warmer climates. The Laps themselves did little traveling from place to place.

As she stopped along the wayside to paint an occasional water color, the local people would stop and watch. "We got on so well with the people," she said, "probably because they found we were interested in the same things they were . . . the way they lived their lives day by day."

Laplanders were fascinated, too, with the music they played. Miss Erickson had a flute, and Lister, a recorder. Sometimes the green, snow-patched wastes would echo to a duet of Bach.

"The people have a long tradition which they remember even in these modern times," she said. "They combine the old with the new in positive and not negative ways. For instance, they fit motors to their boats but the boats remain as they always were."

The walkers lived on oatmeal, cheese, reindeer and whale meat, and berries and mushrooms gathered along the way. Days were long under the 24 hour blue sky.

Then they stepped out a little too close to Russia and drew the suspicious border guards.

"We were walking north to south along a path we didn't realize was forbidden territory. There were no notices to say so," Miss Erickson recalled.

The path ran parallel with the Russian border which was about three miles away. The landscape was empty of any sign of life.

The couple had been walking for some hours when they suddenly came upon a border patrol. Despite the smiles and the friendly greetings, they found themselves being escorted to see the patrol captain.

"We had to spend the night in confinement but entertained the guards by drawing pictures and giving them the American and Lappish titles," said Miss Erickson.

Next day, they saw the captain and, for the first time in the whole of their trip, they had to undergo a thorough search of their packs and passports.

"He was satisfied we were what we said we were and we went on our way with waves and handshakes," Miss Erickson recalled.

Pleads Innocent To Battery

A 20-year-old county jail inmate, James Hardy, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of battery of a fellow prisoner April 13.

He pleaded innocent Judge Peter Allen Smith was to set trial date this afternoon.

Hardy, of San Francisco, allegedly kicked George D. Beauchamp Jr., 22, of 865 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, in the head in an argument in the jail over use of the pay telephone.

Beauchamp, treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut forehead and a swollen ear, is serving time for petty theft. Hardy is scheduled for trial Aug. 15 for burglary.

Golf Course Offer Sounds Good, But Requires Study

The San Geronimo Valley Golf Course has been offered to Marin County as a gift so that it can remain a permanent green belt and a community facility.

A non-profit corporation would acquire the golf course, sell 25-year revenue bonds to reimburse the present owners, and then deed title to the county. The county's acceptance would be conditioned on a lease agreement with the operators. Rental paid under the lease would cover the cost of bond retirement and interest.

Proponents argue that this will assure, without cost to the county, a permanent open space accessible to public recreation.

The basic concept of the proposal is a good one. A golf course is certainly in keeping with the flowing contour of San Geronimo Valley and would be far more desirable esthetically than other more congested use.

However, a venture of this kind calls for caution. A careful analysis, both legal and economic, would be in order before we commit ourselves to this proposal, however inviting it may appear.

While this may be a bona fide offer by owners dedicated as much to conservation as to commercial gain, we would not want hasty acts now to establish precedents for the future.

In the case of the San Geronimo golf course, it has been pointed out that tax revenues that will be lost by county ownership will be offset by annual possessory interest tax to be paid by the non-profit corporation. We should get an accounting of just how much the net gain or loss will be.

In this or in any future offer of this nature, we would want assurances from the county's financial and legal experts that the proposals made are beneficial to the county, and no strings are attached that may later tie the county's hands in any way.

It may be poor pracitce to look a gift horse in the mouth. But when a public agency ventures into the field of business property ownership, we should exercise special care.

We do not want to set any precedent that would encourage promoters to use the county as an unwitting tool for private financial gain.

April—Marin's Magic Month

April is a changling. One day it is cool and damp. The next it's hot and dry. It is the time for sprouting seeds in the garden. It is also the time of the greatest flowering — apples, hawthorns, azaleas, roses and rhododendrons, to name only a few April blossoms. It is also the time of the golden cups of California poppies and the blue spikes of lupine, as well as lesser wild flowers.

Marin's April is a time of birdsong and nestbuilding — and the voice of the quail is upon the land once again. The gophers are mounding the lawn and we were stung by a yellowjacket.

Can blissful summer be far behind?

THREE MINUTES A DAY

TEEN-AGE HOSTILITY MAY COVER UP FEAR

A plea for more understanding of teen-agers was made by a doctor at a medical meeting in Chicago.

Dr. Irene Josselyn pointed out that their arrogance, defiance and indifference may simply be a cover-up for fears arising from growing independence.

"The adolescent," she added, "may handle that fear by escaping from the responsibility of independence and returning to an immature form of dependency."

Instead of being angry, she said, adults should recognize this fact: "The teen-ager needs freedom to explore and someone upon whom he can be dependent when the task of growing up overpowers him. He also needs a wise, sympathetic sounding board and guide."

Today's affluence and freedom mean unprecedented opportunities and pressures for young people.

Correction of youthful excesses may be needed. It will be accepted more readily if offered in a Christ-like spirit of love. This applies even when you do not fully understand the "why" of their actions.

"There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear." (1 John 4:18)

Let me encourage freedom and self-mastery in young people, Lord.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

District 1 Battle May Go On Without Even One Litter Bit

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

When Mel Warenback, a couple weeks ago, said he would not put up roadside signs publicizing his candidacy for First District supervisor, we thought he was a dreamer.

If his opponents plastered the hillsides and roadsides with signs and placards, we figured Warenback would have to do likewise, for self preservation.

But now we have the second candidate in the race, Dr. William Upton, who says he too will refrain from putting up roadside signs advertising his candidacy.

Now, if John F. McInnis, the only other candidate, would join in the no-sign pledge, we could end up with the cleanest (from the standpoint of lack of litter and roadside distractions) supervisorial campaign in history.

BOB CARROW and his Marin Democratic Central Committee got their signals crossed this week. They had a meeting set at the San Rafael courthouse Monday night, with Assemblyman Pearce Young of Napa as guest speaker. Then at the last moment, they cancelled the meeting, but forgot to tell the guest speaker.

So Assemblyman Young, after a full day in Sacramento, dutifully rushes down to San Rafael and comes puffing up the courthouse steps at 8 p.m., only to find an empty courthouse and darkened corridors.

THE DEMOCRATIC strategy seems to be to beat the drums for Ronald Reagan, so that Governor Brown won't have to oppose George Christopher in November.

Almost every big name Democrat who comes campaigning into Marin will tell you that Reagan will whip Christopher in the June primary. And even those who aren't so sure seem anxious to see Reagan win.

ALSO, Democratic State Chairman Robert L. Coate sent a biting letter to Christopher, questioning the ethics of selling milk to city concessionnaires and caterers while he was supervisor and mayor of San Francisco.

The Democrats seem to be concentrating their attack on Christopher. Personally, they may like him better than Reagan, but for political expediency, they'd rather face Reagan in November.

The Days Dwindle Down To A Precious Few—

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What's Teaching? Maybe An Art?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Obviously your headline writer cannot read.

In his statement of resignation, Mr. Farhad Moezzi, head of the Art Department of San Rafael High School, made it very plain, in the simplest of language that he was resigning, not for "art's sake" as your headline alleged, but for the sake of teaching. Circumstances have made the job of teacher in the San Rafael district unpleasant, difficult and, at times, almost impossible.

During the recent Kerouac book fracas and other less publicized incidents, there has been no organized community voice raised in support of our teachers. A good school system cannot exist without according support and respect to the dignity and professional integrity of the classroom teacher. This includes his right to make decisions in the classroom of which all segments of the community may not completely approve.

It is time for those of us who realize this to band together to defend the schools against those who claim to be concerned for education, but are undercutting its very foundations.

I would welcome hearing from those who would assist in this effort.

Store's Sign Held Close To Treason

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am as much in favor of the constitutional right of free expression as any citizen. However, it is my feeling that making a public mockery of every able-bodied citizen's duty to serve our country is abusing the constitutional privilege.

The Town Hardware, 1593 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, has a marquee in front of their store on which they display advertising slogans, sometimes amusing, sometimes ridiculous, but never before in poor taste. They are now flaunting a slogan which reads: "Our Incinerators Can Handle Draft Cards".

Loyal opposition to political viewpoints, domestic legislation and foreign policy has been an important factor in our democratic two-party government. But, as I stated before, public mockery of the obligation to serve one's country seems dangerously close to a treasonous act.

Young's Action Is Commended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to commend the action taken by Assemblyman Pearce Young and the Criminal Procedures Committee on the LSD bill. It shows a considerable amount of courage in combination with sound judgment . . .

I say courage because narcotics is an area where prudent and thoughtful appraisal is subject to the attack of self-seeking politicians such as the recent statement by Senator McCarthy calling LSD "one of the most dangerous menaces facing California today."

. . . The cry that something should be done, therefore pass a law is, unfortunately, the standard refuge of the self-righteous politician.

The question is not one of passing a law on drugs but rather will such a law in any way bring about desirable results, namely enlightenment concerning the properties of a drug and encouragement of its use in a positive way. Such laws as Senator McCarthy wants passed serve only to stimuate the unstable, make the drug concerned more attractive by virtue of its newly acquired forbidden status, make criminals out of the sick and invite criminal elements to move into the situation created by the law itself. Finally such laws would destroy the opportunity to explore the beneficial aspects of the drug in a reasoned way . . .

I do not deny that LSD or any other drug is subject to abuse and that harmful effects may result from their use. Senator McCarthy's remarks apply equally if indeed not more appropriately to alcohol and nicotine . . .

Unless Senator McCarthy can show the proposals he supports will, in fact, solve some problem and not merely establish a revenge mechanism against those whom he cannot otherwise dominate with his opinion, their passage becomes a mockery of jurisprudence.

West Marinites Turned Out

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wonder if you would consider the outcome of the West Marin School bond election on Tuesday good subject matter for an editorial.

The election brought out 62 per cent of the registered voters. An interesting comparison can be made with the Dixie district election which brought out 38 per cent which Superintendent D. B. Willis said was "good for this kind of election."

The West Mariners voted a whopping 84 per cent in favor of the bonds. Even Inverness, traditionally lukewarm to these things, cast 209 for to 43 against.

The elementary school in Point Reyes Station which benefits from the bonds will be an enviable school facility when the library and four new classrooms are added — a model for other districts in the county.

I think I speak the mind of people "out here" when I say we are proud of the results of our election; of our strong turnout, and of our obvious awareness of the need for better schools.

If there is no editorial in it, perhaps a bouquet?

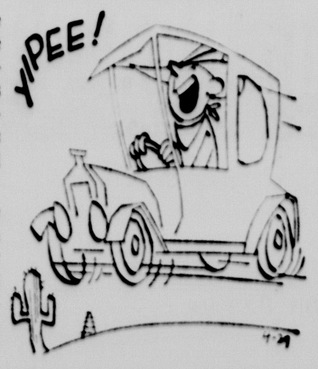
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A TEXAS TYCOON became intrigued with an old-fashioned London taxicab and ordered one for his ranch. "They assured me," he told his wife, "that the darn thing can turn on a dime—whatver that may be."

A DISTRESSED mother marched her little boy to the office of a psychiatrist. "Can a lad of ten years old marry a beautiful star like Elizabeth Taylor?" she demanded. "Of course, not," said the analyst impatiently. The mother turned triumphantly to her son and said, "What did I tell you, Irving. Now you go right out there and get a divorce.



OVERHEARD . . . Toy store clerk to mother of particularly obnoxious brat: "Shall I wrap this, madam, or will he break it here?

Hollywood glamour girl reporting on dinner allegedly hosted by Jack Benny: "The wine flowed like New York City crosstown traffic."

Bryn Mawr sophomore en route to Harvard prom: "They voted me the most opposite of the opposite sex."

Movie producer to Italian import: "This role will make you or break you, Marissa. You wear all your clothes in every scene."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Testimonial Dinner For Senator Dubious, Dangerous, Disorderly

WASHINGTON — As Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., is painfully finding out, the testimonial dinner to raise funds to cover between-campaign costs of public life is a dubious, dangerous and disorderly device.

It may not be the worst method of augmenting the income of elected officials who do not have independent fortunes, but it should be struck down by public distaste unless rigid safeguards against abuse are imposed by Congress.

The defense of the testimonial-dinner technique is this:

That the salaries and allowances given to Senators and Representatives are inadequate to take care of the costs of public life.

That elective office should not, in effect, be substantially limited to the wealthy.

THAT THERE is less obligation on the part of the Congressman if through a testimonial dinner many contribute small sums rather than a few giving him large sums.

That the testimonial-dinner gifts to Congressmen are a pretty common practice, not something recently thought up by the friends of Dodd.

Why, then, is it proving so embarrassing to Dodd, whom I have found to be a most honorable man, to have the news of his three big Connecticut testimonial dinners come out as if they involved scandal?

The main reasons are that few of the donors really know to what exact purpose they are contributing the money, that neither the contributors nor the public know how the money is being spent, and that there are no ground rules as to the ethical ways the funds can properly be used.

ALL THIS is why it is crucial that the Senate Ethics Committee come up with some positive reforms while it is looking into whether Dodd has been guilty of or the beneficiary of any improper practices. I would say that the very minimum reforms should be these:

1. Full public disclosure of the financial interests and income by all members of Congress and top Congressional employees — a measure long advocated by Sen. Clifford P. Case, R—N. J.

2. It should be mandatory that the precise fund-raising purpose of every testimonial dinner be publicly and fully stated.

3. The purposes for which such funds can be used should be set out and limited.

4. Funds so used should be periodically and publicly accounted for and certified by an outside public accountant.

IF THESE rules had been in effect, Dodd would not be so embarrassed by the disclosures about his testimonial dinners. He is one of numerous similar beneficiaries in Congress.

One labor leader reported that he receives a minimum of 100 invitations a year for political testimonial dinners and that his union keeps a special fund earmarked for such contributions.

Will the Senate Ethics Committee come to grips with the needed reforms and, even if it does, will Congress enact them into law?

Answer: Only if there is a strong voter demand. As Case has often pointed out, legislatures are very reluctant to police themselves — however much they enjoy policing others.

The Nixon fund, the Yarborough fund, the Stevenson fund (when he was Illinois Governor) and the spate of testimonial dinners are bad business for everybody until they are put under rigid, public rules and accounting.

Controversial Jobs Given Peace Corps

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The widely popular Peace Corps is being given two new and highly controversial mission, one involving the domestic economy.

On orders of President Johnson, Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn is drawing up plans to:

1. Recruit several thousand "foreign youths" to work in anti-poverty programs in U.S. cities and depressed rural areas.

2. Promote "family planning" in foreign countries.

DETAILS OF these and other new Peace Corps missions are being outlined to Democratic congressional leaders by Vaughn and anti-poverty Director Sargent Shriver, who until recently was the Peace Corps' head.

The legislative leaders are being told President Johnson wants the agency to undertake the new assignments as part of a worldwide peace drive he is launching this summer.

The proposed "reverse Peace Corps," as the recruiting of the foreign youths is known, already is being quietly tested in several small pilot operations. Youths from India, where the largest Peace Corps program is underway, are working in anti-poverty organizations in New York, Boston, Cleveland, and the Appalachian region.

Under the proposed White House plan, the Peace Corps will enroll 5,000 foreign youths each year to "teach and work" with the poor in the U.S.

THESE FOREIGN corpsmen would be selected without regard to political or ideological affiliation. Their pay and living costs would be set by the Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program.

Each foreign youth would spend at least one year in this country and then return home with, hopefully, a better understanding of America and its objectives.

In the other new Peace Corps mission, college-trained U.S. youths would undertake educational and publicity programs to further "birth control" in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The first 55 of these family planning advocates are being sent to India. Another similar contingent is going to Turkey.

ACCORDING TO Director Vaughn, to perform this and other undertakings the President will ask Congress to increase the agency's overseas corps from 12,000 to 100,000 over the next two years.

With the Peace Corps receiving more than 6,000 applications last month, Vaughn is convinced a rapid build-up can readily be accomplished. The Corps, now in its fifth year, was launched by the late President Kennedy.

Peace Corps members will be sent to British Guiana later this year, bringing to 50 the number of nations which have them. Under consideration is a proposal to exchange Peace Corps groups with Iron Curtain countries.

Rumania has evinced interest in such a plan, but there is no indication when or if anything will come of it.

The Federal Public Housing Authority authorized construction of 75 temporary family housing units for veterans in Marin County.

First step toward formation of a new sanitary district which would include San Rafael and its outlying areas was taken by the San Rafael City Council.

A San Anselmo citizens committee reported that Main School should be abandoned because it could not withstand an earthquake and was a hazard to children.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Sniff A Garden; Check On Blackie; Birds, Foxes And Painted Chests

People are often goggling over the fence at the garden of Minnie Iverson, red-headed gardener on Buena Vista Avenue, and, being that time of year, we decided to see what's up.

She explained that her tulips were wonderful this year and it is now rhododendron time. "I gave three great big ones to the nuns," said she.

She showed a fine crop of French iris, some marguerites and she came to the rose bed, saying roses are her favorite flowers. "My roses are wonderful," she related, "because I keep spraying them with rose spray. The deer haven't touched them this year. Last year they came up in the night in the pouring rain. The spray keeps them away," she added.

We noticed a great many poppies blooming and Miss Iverson explained that they come up by themselves each year. "When the poppies are over, I save the seeds. I put them in the oven and they pop out of their pods and then they are ready to plant.

"We had a pint of poppy seeds last year which we took to the Christian Science Church and they were scattered around on the hills.

Miss Iverson said she does all the work herself except once a year when Roy Springett comes and trims all the roses. He also brings nine sacks of aged manure every year," she added. We were shown Miss Iverson's newest dahlias — one is called Television, she said, one Doris Day. Then we sniffed the garden and took leave.

WE RECEIVED a call the other day from Boots Berg in Vacaville, asking for use of files on Blackie, the horse who lived on and on. She said she is doing a story on Blackie.

Unable to find the story, we went to see the late horse's master, Anthony Connell. He was wearing a straw hat, holding a cane and happy to speak of the horse. Connell, 85 in July, said he leaves the convalescent home each Saturday to go to his ark on the bay. Asked how he feels about a monument to his horse, he replied, "I don't care."

MRS. MIMI BROWN says she has received a request from a neighbor to tape her singing canary, Sammy Davis, Jr.

The neighbor has never heard such a bird.

The other night, near Stinson Beach on Panoramic Highway, we watched a gray fox cross the road with a small animal in his mouth, apparently supper, and shortly afterward met a young man on horseback who waved hello as if it were the country. It is beautiful country.

And, at Bolinas School, there was a bit of comedy relief in a serious situation when George Gianola made a vital point and a woman sitting next to him cried, "Hear! Hear!" in appreciation.

Gianola turned to the woman, apparently thinking she had asked a question, "Here and there, both," meaning Bolinas and Stinson Beach.

NICK PENDLETON is the painter of chests and stomachs in the Big Hat acts at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club's Rhubarb Revue. Bob Glessner and Kary Zipf are painted to look like large faces on chests and midriffs, then huge hats are put over their heads. It's very well done.

Outgoing Mill Valley councilmen received gifts from fellow councilmen, Joe Sheeks getting a metal traffic directional sign reading: "Joseph E. Sheeks Memorial Speedway. The council authorizes you by resolution to place this any place in the city." Sheeks, always a terror against speeders, said he would place the sign on his apartment balcony. Then, leaving the chambers with the sign over his shoulder, he said, "another cross to bear."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Here Are Some Further Notes On Marin County Retirement

FUSSELMAN

So that you may have the full money picture respecting retirement, I am repeating the figures given last week, covering the first 13 years of the system (1950 to 1963). The employee's contributions plus accruals from interest received on investments was 52 per cent or $2,903,776. The county's was 48 per cent or $2,780,941. Pensions plus withdrawals of those leaving county service was $1,484,032. Although dollars in a fund cannot be identified, the effect of this would leave a balance in the employee's part of $1,419,744, with the county's share untouched.

I requested the treasurer's office to make a projection for a period of 20 years from the passage of the resolution in September, 1963. The calculation for projection purpose was based on the then employee count. It was assumed that the dropouts would be replaced by the new. It was also assumed that the general members would retire at 65 and that the safety members at age 60. The generally accepted longevity was also used. An average of $400 per month was used for women's salaries and $500 for men. The present rate of employee contribution would remain the same. (Note: It has risen slightly in the past.) The county's rate would remain the same for seven years then decrease by 3.35 per cent, which is the exact percentage of decrease over the previous 13 years.

The following was the approximation for the 20 years: Employee's contribution $5,897,362, county's $8,222,036, pensions and withdrawls $6,407,211. This would indicate that the employees' contribution would cover all but $509,849 in payouts during the 20 years. However, this would be more than covered by investment earnings of the employees' part of the fund plus the more than $1,000,000 carry over of the previous 13 years. The county's part for the 33 years could be assumed to reach between $11 and $12 million untouched but used as a backlog, which future custodians would undoubtedly find of value to the community.

The virtuous posture of the Ross Valley supervisor that he could save $100,000 to $300,000 a year by eliminating the 60 pensions to the surviving spouse simply does not stand up under scrutiny. Furthermore it is out of character with the vote of refusal to assess the penalty of several thousand dollars recommended by the assessor after his office, on a re-audit, found the tax consultant of a local corporation had made incorrect reports of inventories.

I hope you read the Reporter's Notebook by Rick Lyttle in the I-J Monday. If you didn't, let me know and I will try and get a copy to you. He was having great difficulty in trying to "read something" in the following: "Supervisor (Ernest N.) Kettenhofen moves that due to concern of past events, the administrator be instructed to give further emphasis hereafter to full and unreserved disclosure to any board member upon general county problems upon inquiry of any supervisor, and that he shall keep each board member fully informed of major matters without inquiry." Lyttle went on to say that the statement was a pretty uncommon thing and though, "It's not uncommon to try to blame someone else for your ignorance, but when five men sit down and try to hammer out a statement to that effect behind closed doors with an armed deputy guarding the portal—that's uncommon."

It appears that there must have been some pretty thick insulation that the majority of the board have been sitting on not to have felt the heat building up under them by constantly letting the "one man power structure" have full reign. The egg factories are bound to come home to roost with the resulting egg on face routine.

Great White Bird Gets Surprise In Deal For World War II Bombs

WASHINGTON — There seems to be a shortage of bombs and other equipment from World War II which are needed for our present engagement in Viet Nam.

Secretary McNamara revealed the other day that the Defense Department had to buy back a number of 750-pound bombs from the Germans. The bombs were sold to the Germans for $1.70 each and bought back by the U.S. for $21 each.

The Pentagon isn't talking about it but a world-wide search is going on for American war surplus and just the other day a colonel showed up on the island of Mona Loren in the South Pacific, which had been an army base in World War II.

He was greeted by the chief of the Mona Lorens, who was wearing a Seabee skivvy shirt, a pair of Marine dungarees, army boots and an Air Force hat with goggles.

"Welcome to Mona Loren, Great White Bird," the chief said. "We have not seen your kind since the savages of the Rising Sun threatened to engulf us with their yellow peril."

"YEH, WELL, all that's forgotten now, chief. How's the old island doing?"

"The quonset huts are holding up well, but the tents are starting to leak. Have you come to give us more surplus?"

"No chief, on the contrary we thought we might move some of this junk out of here for you, so you would have more room."

"To do what?"

"Put in urban renewal. That sort of stuff. Let me ask you chief, you still got those bombs around that we left behind?"

"Oh, yes. Many bombs are still on island."

"That's fine. I'm happy to tell you that we've been worried about your safety for the past 19 years and we've decided to remove them so no one will get hurt."

"VERY GOOD, Smiling Eagle. How much are you paying for them?"

"Well, we hadn't intended to pay for them, but I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll give you a box of chewing gum for each one we take away."

"Wait a minute, most Honorable Brass. The Germans were here a few weeks ago and offered us $3 a bomb, F.O.B."

"Well, we'll give you $3.50 a bomb just to show there are no hard feelings."

"You are indeed generous, Great White Spit Polish. But the French came a few days later and offered us $5.50 a bomb, plus green stamps."

"ALL RIGHT, we'll give you $7.00 a bomb and that's as high as we can go."

"Alas, Dear Uniformed Liberator. The British were here just two days ago and offered us $10 a bomb, plus a gross of 'Beatle' records."

"Who else has been to see you?" the colonel said angrily.

"The Egyptians, the Israelis, the Cubans, the Malaysians, the Pakistanis, the Indians, the Greeks, the Turks and the Rhodesians. The last bid on the bombs was $43.50. Tell me something. What the hell is going on out there in the world?"

"Never mind. Okay, we'll pay you $50 a bomb. And that's final."

"You have yourself a deal, Proud Brother."

"One thing more, chief. How much do you want for the skivvy shirt?"

North Marin Homes On Tour Thursday

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Five houses depicting the various ways of living in North Marin will be featured in "Kaleidoscope of Novato Living," the tour sponsored by the Novato Community Ambassadors on Thursday. It will support the exchange student programs at Novato High School.

The houses featured include a waterfront home in Bel Marin Keys, a Country Club home for the golfer, a remodeled tract home, a ranch for Western living and a bachelor's hillside home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dwight, Bel Marin Keys, have their own beach, a dock for their power cruiser and a suana bath. The home has decks surrounding the water side and one wall of the living room is glass.

The Arthur Lindauer home at the Marin Country Club Estates was designed by their architect son, Stewart Lindauer. The house was designed as a two-family unit, for Mr. Lindauer's parents to live with them. A curving stairway leads up to the front door of the home which has a bleached redwood exterior. The living room overlooks the golf course. Herta Rothschild of Novato will have paintings on display.

A remodeled home in subdivision is the Albert Leach residence. The Leaches lived there for 11 years before a family room was added which has a cathedral ceiling with pine beams. Stairs from the living room lead to the bar where a gun fancier may see a framed revolver once belonging to Billy the Kid.

A double A-frame dwelling with a magnificent view is the home of J. M. Gragg, built of redwood with cedar shingles. It won an award from the American Institute of Building Design in 1963. The two bedroom home has walls 29 feet high with beamed ceilings and mahogany paneling throughout. An open stairway with columns of lava rock leads to the upstairs den.

The Robert Watson home at 10 Wild Horse Valley Drive epitomizes Western living with its oak trees surrounding the ranch house with a stable for their two horses and a pet donkey named "Carmen."

The carpentry work was done by Mr. Watson, and included the adding of the redwood beams and posts and the two wagon wheel tables in the living room. An interesting feature is a carousel horse brought from Holland 150 years ago. Western scenes by artist Al Martin Napoletane, are displayed.

MRS. LEO WAGNER is tour chairman, assisted by Mesdames Martin Mueller, Philip Rosenberg, Robert Newbold, Richard Prasil and William Sparrow.

The tour will begin at 10 a.m., with lunch available at the San Marin Club from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. Reservations chairmen are Mesdames Wagner, Mueller and Rosenberg.

Council Will Hold Preview, Luncheon

The spring preview luncheon of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council will be held on May 10 with registration beginning at 9:45 a.m. at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

The meeting at 10:15 a.m. will feature reports on the March National Federation Conference by Mrs. David Lawrence, president, and Mrs. Willard Vernon and the installation of new officers.

New officers are Mesdames Robert Bilderback, president; Melvin R. Stidham, vice president; Jean N. Bell, vice president; Roger Cherry, honorary vice president; Lawrence, recording secretary; Charles Mathis, corresponding secretary; Douglas Godfrey, membership secretary; William Dunlavy, treasurer; Dave Lucas, historian; Carol Dills, auditor and Vernon, Greg Smith and Newton Stearns, directors-at-large.

Rod Holmgren, chairman of the department of journalism at Monterey Peninsula College, will be the luncheon speaker. His topic will be "Are We Ready for Claissification." The luncheon will be held at 11:45 a.m

Following the presentation of awards to outstanding citizens, members and guests will attend a special preview at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Diodati of San Anselmo is reservations chairman.

GOLFING IS NOT the only pastime of the Arthur Lindauers of the Marin Country Club Estates. Their hillside home at 72 Par Lane has been terraced in three levels. Here Mr. Lindauer enjoys a swim as Mrs. Maurice Baldwin and Mrs. Robert Newbold of the Community Ambassadors prepare for a dip. Watching is Mrs. Herta Rothschild, whose paintings will be on display at the home.

MRS. ALBERT LEACH and Mrs. Charles Royce enter the living room of the urban home recently remodeled by the Leaches in Novato. The hillside house was remodeled to give more indoor area as well as balconies for outdoor living. The deck is a riot of color with rhododendrons, azaleas and camellias now showing in shades of pink.

EARLY MARRIAGE TRENDS

Teen-Agers Marry To Escape Legal Authority Of Parents

Final article in a series based on the teen-age marriage and divorce conference held at the University of California Medical Center by the Continuing Education in Medicine and Health Sciences.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Marriage is carrying a load it was never intended to carry —namely the means of bringing instant adulthood and legal escape from parents' authority, agree three authorities who are studying social and legal aspects of today's matrimony situation.

"Marriage is now the device by which a teen-ager asserts adulthood," says anthropologist Paul Bohannon, whose studies have resulted in a forthcoming book "Divorce in Cross-Cultural Perspective."

As an alternative, attorney Herma Hill Kay, Boalt Hall law professor who has been making a study of marriage and divorce at Stanford University, suggests that a legal device may be needed to help the older teen-ager have more legal responsibility for his own life, providing an escape hatch other than marriage when he is caught in an unfortunate home situation.

"It's time for creative legal research of situations for youngsters over 16 to be consulted on matters of their own welfare." At present marriage is the only legal escape from total legal control by the parents, she said.

Law professor Robert Furlong, who has studied California's current teen marriage and family problems, has suggested that such a legal device could free these older adolescents to the extent that, for example an 18-year-old girl wouldn't have to marry to gain some emancipation as she now does.

Bohannon agrees that "you can't apply yesterday's culture to today" and that new solutions are needed. But why ask young people to wait to marry? he asks. Why not help young marrieds work it out rather than unrealistically ask them to wait, he suggests.

PEOPLE NEED HELP, he says, because we have raised family and marriage standards way out of recognition—so high that it is harder and harder to live up to them.

Dr. Bohannon suggests a possible system of "mentors" —some sort of parenting institution for teen-age married pairs to fit into and be instructed in marriage and maturation, in the absence of parents or reasonable parent substitutes.

"I do not think social workers will do, nor marriage counselors, other parents or doctors . . . But it does seem that communities of young couples, with slightly older couples who can act as instructors and role models, melded into some sort of domestic unit of perhaps 40 or 50 people, would help," the anthropologist explained.

Then, he said, as the youngsters moved along in marital responsibility, they would be obliged to serve as mentors and models, before they became too old.

Bohannon suggested that the system might work in some college situations—"though beyond that it would not, and, instead might take the form of cooperatives with special services."

HE SAID ONE ASPECT of the idea he disliked was that this kind of age segregation has already proceeded too far in America as a solution to building schools (with only a few grades), building communities for the aging, etc. and thus removing role models for all the ages and stages of life. ("Now even the third graders don't see the seventh graders some places"). But, the anthropologist said, the mentor idea has one advantage: "it takes the blame off the kids who want to get married—and puts the problem into perspective to be examined and tackled."

"It is terribly American of us to shout "immoral" and "wait" instead of getting down to creating new institutions . . . it's time to look at man's nature rather than his morals . . . look at the real ethics instead of casting blame for his messiness," Dr. Bohannon said.

He criticized current American culture for being "very rough" both on adolescents and divorced people because it does not offer a clear cut and universally approved set of roles for either. The only way out is to wait in the case of teen-agers or to remarry for the divorced. Adolescents who are divorced are in "double jeopardy" of the blame Americans are currently fond of laying at the foot of the "irresponsible" adolescent and the "failure" of the divorced, which he termed a very narrow viewpoint.

"We have to look at our methods of child-rearing and education and our institutions of marriage in a wider sphere.

"We have to examine what adulthood requires in our culture—it requires more training and learning, responsibility—therefore, the married teen-ager is what we can only term an 'underqualified adult'," Bohannon stated. "What I am saying is that teen-age marriage is a social problem only in a situation where the only recognized form of marriage assumes autonomous adult partners, and which provides no institution for training in marriage and no large, protecting institution into which the young marriage can fit" (Hence his suggestion of a mentor system.)

"It is this situation combined with the American 'pursuit of happiness' and our history of using marriage as the only honorable basis on which to build households, that leads to divorce. I would even say that teen-age divorce is 'bad' only in situations in which it leaves teen-agers (or anybody else) without adequate institutions to take care of the psychic and social demands. We have got over this by a not very convincing repetition of the code of 'self reliance', and have used the same maunderings to keep from examining our institutions of adolescence, marriage and divorce," the noted anthropologist said.

ON THE MATTER OF divorce in California, various views emerged:

Furlong pointed out that a high percentage of the California divorces are given to couples who have married in another state, including Reno and Las Vegas, showing that the highest divorce rate is from hasty marriages.

Assemblyman Pearce Young, who is involved with legislation in the field of marriage and divorces, said that attorneys often find that couples who come to them supposedly for a divorce are actually seeking advice in their marriage rather than to terminate it. He called divorce laws archaic and said that the legislature intends to move toward a more sane judiciary approach. He pointed out that $240 million dollars per year goes to aid dependent children, a direct result of broken homes, and crime is costing about $600 million, many of the criminals have backgrounds of broken homes also.

Attorney Kay said that divorce in itself is not always a bad thing. "If a mistake has been made it may be harder on the children to be left in a home where there is no emotional warmth. But divorce could be made painless to use and a constructive step.

IN REPLY LEONTINE YOUNG, doctor of social welfare who heads the Child Study Clinic in Newark, N. J., remarked, "We musn't get too glib on the other side of this. Divorce can't be painless: I am perturbed by people seeing first marriage as only a trial. The couple enter into marriage with high hopes and dreams. When it falls apart divorce hurts. It can't be painless. We have a happiness syndrome in this country. But it should be realized that a lot of life is survival, compromise and growing up through trials. A couple may find out that 'there is some responsibility in this — let's grow up through it'."

Marrying young with the idea in the back of the mind that divorce is a possible way out was seen as a detriment to the marrige because neither partner comes to it as fully committed to its endurance.

"Divorcees say that there is a great ignorance about divorce among the undivorced," Paul Bohannon said. "After a divorce in the family gives knowledge to others in it how to do it less painfully," explaining partially why divorce seems likely to run in families.

Attorney Herma Hill Kay said that when teen-age divorce reaches the courts it is treated the same way as adults. Yet there are separate juvenile courts for other problems.

"WE COULD DO away with much of the legal harshness of divorce. Perhaps the law's machinery can use a different device for divorce than for criminal offenders. There might be counselors trained in human relations, and marriages can be helped within the legal framework instead of left by it to flounder."

All agreed that the long term answer lay in early and continued education in areas of human development and family life, a program on which the state legislature is currently working to set up in California schools.

Poem Sums Up True Reason Why Housework Isn't Done

DEAR HELEN:

So many of us say we don't have time (for everything from housecleaning to Scout work). Seems to me all the time we use to work because we don't have time could be used to do whatever we don't have time for.

Here's a poem I read somewhere that says what I mean: "I'm worried, I'm hurried, my days are a maze,/ It's my housework, I can't get ahead of it./ But if I were truthful I'm sure I should say,/ 'It isn't the work, it's the dread of it!'"

REALLY NOT THAT BUSY

DEAR RNTB:

My sentiments exactly. Fact is, I composed that poem six years ago—and no less than a dozen people have sent it to me since, as "Something, author unknown, that you really should print in your column."

I have, I have . . . twice already! But thanks, anyway.

—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Tell me something. Why do women never go to the ladies room alone? Can't they powder their noses without company? Down at the office, you never see just one secretary going down the hall. It's a herd, or anyway a covey. Take the wives out for dinner and one little woman says to the others, "Shall we?" and they're off. Sometimes they don't even need words, they just rise in unison and waft away.

If men go anywhere in unison, it's to the bar. That makes sense. What's with you gals anyway?

—CAN'T UNDERSTAND 'EM

DEAR C.O.E.:

Maybe we go along to hear the powder room gossip — or be sure we aren't the subject of it.

Or perhaps it's because (unlike men) women are natural born "flockers." We never go singly where we can go together, and that includes shopping trips, luncheons, even the library or a walk in the park, as well as powder rooms.

DEAR HELEN:

Children aren't what they used to be? Of course not: PARENTS aren't what they used to be. We are a lazy generation. It is much easier to sit there in my little ol' rocking chair and read the paper than get up and get the book my little one is pestering me to read from. It is easier to sit out on the chaise lounge and scream, "Shut Up!" to the two older children, than get up and find out quietly and pleasantly what is wrong. It is simpler to let the kids watch TV than take them to the garden and plant those seeds that have been in the junk drawer since the year one.

It is easier to send a bought card to a bereaved friend than to write your own personal thoughts; easier to mail a printed "Thank You" than say just why you liked the gift.

Easier, easier, easier . . . If parents forever search for the easy way, can we expect our kids to go out and mould new worlds—the hard way?

BUTTON PUSHER

DEAR B.P.:

Right, right, right! Hard work is important at any age—and the only way to make your children work hard is: work along with them! Most of us gals could benefit by a little more back—and ear—bending. the first helps the waistline; the second, the communication line —and that's the family life-line!

—H.

MARIN FILM FARE

'A Thousand Clowns' Human Comedy

By LES DARD

Some of this weekend's best Marin entertainment is to be found at the movies. Let's take a look:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"A Thousand Clowns," now on screen, is truly a human comedy, presenting a view of people and life that is sometimes amusing, sometimes pathetic and consistently fascinating.

Jason Robards stars as a TV gag writer who resigns from gainful employment in order to become an individual again and to do the things he always wanted to do. But there are problems—for one, he is taking care of his sister's 12-year-told son, and the social workers proclaim that he must either conform, or lose the boy.

Now he must choose between his principles and the child. Furthermore, the boy loves and honors him for his unconventionality, and Robard doesn't want to lose his respect. Martin Balsam won an Oscar for his supporting performance as Robards' go-getter brother.

RAFAEL THEATER

Now playing are two films with those intrepid fellows from U.N.C.L.E, Robert Vaughn and David McCalum—better known as Napoleon Solo and Illya Kuryakin.

First off, there's "The Spy With My Face," which involves a dastardly plot by T.H.R.U.S.H. (the self-acknowledged bad guys) to take over the world.

They are out to capture a devastating force known as Project Earth Safe, and part of the plan involves replacing the chief opposition (Vaughn) with a perfect, plastic-surgery double. Principal T.H.R.U.S.H. operative is the lovely Senta Berger.

Co-featured is "To Trap A Spy," in which Illya and Napoleon head off a plot by WASP to murder one of Africa's new nation premiers.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

A spy film of a completely different genre is now showing here—"The Spy Who Came In From The Cold," one of the year's most masterful offerings, and the finest production in its field.

Taken from the runaway best-seller by John Le Carre, this is, in a way, a critical look at the grey, murky world inhabited by sordid little people who call themselves spies.

Richard Burton takes the role of a seasoned, synical espionage agent whose assignment it is to destroy the head of East German Intelligence. Burton is ably assisted by Oskar Werner, Claire Bloom and Cyril Cusack.

Co-featured is the equally engrossing entry "The Pawnbroker."

NOVATO THEATER

Now playing is "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm." Laurence Harvey and Karl Boehm are cast as the fairy-tale brothers, in the early 1800s in a Bavarian town. They support themselves writing a history of their patron, the Grand Duke.

Three separate Grimm tales are told: "The Dancing Princess," "The Cobbler and the Elves" and "The Singing Bone," a dragon drama starring Buddy Hackett.

Other big names praticipating are Claire Bloom, playing Harvey's wife, and Yvette Mimieux, Jim Backus, Oscar Homulka, Russ Tamblyn and Terry-Thomas, among others. Excellent for the entire family.

Also featured is "Lili."

SEQUOIA THEATER

Now on screen is "The Chase," with Marlon Brando, Robert Redford, Jane Fonda, E. G. Marshall, James Fox and Martha Hyer.

The story is set in the South. An escaped convict — wrongly imprisoned—comes back to his home town. The principal focus is on the reactions of the townspeople—who all seem to be hooligans, eccentrics or brutes—to this unwanted element. Marlon Brando plays the sheriff, responsible for apprehending the fugitive. The feelings of the squeamish are not spared.

Co-featured is "Moment to Moment."

101 DRIVE-IN

Here's another new spy thriller—"The Silencers," which stars Dean Martin in a tale that's aimed more at laughs than deep intrigue. Martin plays Matt Helm, the hero of Donald Hamilton's series of books. Here too is Stella Stevens, who plays one of the many luscious females Martin has to contend with.

But his primary object is a Chinese Communist agent, Victor Buono, who intends to get control of a U.S. atomic missile by using a secret device.

MOTOR MOVIES

Running tonight and tomorrow night only is the fascinating drama, "Judith." The story is set in the Israel of 1948—just before the British depart. The characterizations are as varied as they are interesting.

There's Jack Hawkins as a leathery British major and Peter Finch as the leader of a feverishly nationalistic kibbutz. But most of the attention centers on lovely Sophia Loren. She plays an Anstrian Jewess who is smuggled into the country to search for her hated husband—an ex-Nazi who is working with the Arab tank corps.

Co-featured is "Boeing, Boeing," a light air-age comedy starring Tony Curtis and Jerry Lewis.

LARK THEATER

One of the top adult entries to come this way in some time—from England — is "Darling," held over, for which Julie Christie received the Best Actress Oscar.

She plays a jet-set jade who deserted her husband for the high-flying life — one of those young things who pop up in big city society simply because of their very special beauty. She first forms an alliance with bookish TV commentator Dirk Bogarde, but then sees more opportunities in a relationship with advertising executive Laurence Harvey.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Held over is one of this year's biggest and most uproarious comedies: "The Great Race," starring Jack Lemmon and Tony Curtis.

Essentially, it is a grudge race—by car—in 1908 from New York to Paris via the Bering Strait. Curtis plays a pure lad of moral courage (who dresses in white throughout) and his villianous adversary is played to the sinister hilt by Lemmon (he dresses in black). They deserve tach other.

Five Referred For Juvenile Court Action

Three youths and two Tamalpais High School girl students, all charged in Marin Municipal Court with possession of marijuana, yesterday were referred to juvenile court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled report on the referral for May 12.

The five are Roy Morgan, 18, of House 130; Jim Clarence Durbin, 20, of 27 Pacheco Street, and Michael Holloway, 19, of 16 Dutton Court, all Marin City; and Deborah Elizabeth Bullock, 19, of 374 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, and Jenny Astrid Veggeby, 18, of 2 Upper Hill Road, Mill Valley.

A sixth suspect, a 17-year-old girl, was booked in juvenile hall, also for possession.

Tam High Classes Set Reunion At Dominic's

Members of the classes of 1949 and 1950 at Tamalpais High School will hold a reunion starting at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Graduates are expected to come from as far as Washington, Oregon and Arizona to attend the affair, which will include cocktails, dinner and dancing.

Lecture Set By Composer At Temple

Virgil Thomson, musician, composer, conductor, author and critic, will be guest lecturer of the Symphony Guild of Marin at 8 p.m. Monday at Temple Rodef Sholom, 170 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Thomson will discuss his opera, "The Mother of Us All," which will be presented for the first time in Northern California by the Marin Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sandor Salgo, at 8 p.m. on May 8 in Angelico Hall at Dominican College.

The opera was composed by Thomson with a libretto by Gertrude Stein in 1947 and is based on the life and career of Susan B. Anthony. The characters are both historical and imaginary, linking some as widely spaced in time as John Quincy Adams and Lillian Russell.

In deference to Thomson's first appearance in Marin, the concert preview series usually limited to Guild members, will be open to the public. The preview scheduled for May 4 will be cancelled. Concert preview tickets dated May 4 will be honored Monday, according to Mrs. Walter M. Baird, guild president.

Drug Treatment Discussion Set

A panel discussion of California's narcotics treatment program will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

The program will be presented for the benefit of Marin County members of the judiciary, probation department and law enforcement agencies. Walter Dunbar, director of the State Department of Corrections, will act as moderator.

Speakers will be Dr. William Quinn, chairman of the governor's Narcotic Rehabilitation Advisory Council; Daniel Lopez, special agent for the California Department of Corrections; and Stilson Whiteside, regional director of the corrections department's narcotic addict outpatient program.

Now At Fort Baker

Chief Warrant Officer Emil J. Kauffman Jr. of 877 Estancia Way, Santa Venetia, a Nike Hercules radar specialist, has been assigned to Headquarters, Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command at Fort Baker.

Musician Group To Give Concert In Reed Schools

Pupils in Bel Aire and Reed schools of Reed School District will hear the Repertory Musicians in a 9:15 a.m. concert Monday at Reed School and 10:30 a.m. at Bel Aire School.

Fourth, fifth and sixth graders will attend the Young Audiences concert, sponsored by the San Francisco Symphony Foundation and Ford Foundation. The Reed Parent-Teacher Club will cosponsor the concert with the school district.

Young Audiences is a national organization which provides live concerts of good music, especially arranged for children of fourth to sixth grade level.

Members of the Repertory Musicians apearing Monday will be Jane Hohfeld, piano; Anna Carol Dudley, soprano; Henrietta Harris, contralto; Frances Shorr, violin; Julia Haug Lee, flute; Lenore James, cello and Virginia Ojeda, bassoon.

Watercolors, Oils Set For May Showing

Watercolors and oils by Mill Valley artist Elsie Lower Pomeroy will be exhibited May 1-29 at the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin in San Rafael.

A member of the Marin Society of Artists and numerous other professional groups, she will be honored at a reception at the church at 240 Channing Way from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday. The exhibit will be open weekdays, except Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 4 p.m.

Small Crowd At College VDC Meeting

Fewer than 50 College of Marin students gathered for a "teach-in" on Viet Nam yesterday by two students and an instructor from San Francisco State College.

Speaking were Kip Dawson and Robert Rinaldo, both students and members of the executive committee of the San Francisco State College Viet Nam Day Committee, and history instructor Lucille Bernbaum. They appeared in Olney Hall on the Kentfield Campus.

They claimed:

By its presence in Viet Nam, the United States stands in violation of the Geneva accords. A glance at the history of Viet Nam shows the only foreign aggressor there today is the United States. You cannot count on opposition to the war from people over age 30 because their religious beliefs, financial security and status are all tied to a continuation of the war.

Four Israelis Hurt At Border

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israel army spokesman said four civilians were wounded today — one seriously — when a Syrian position near Entina, east of the Jordon River Valley, opened fire on a group of workers.

A second Syrian position joined in the shooting whereupon Israel protective forces replied, the spokesman added.

Israel charged yesterday that in the same area Syrians repeatedly directed fire into Israel territory.

Brisbane Dump Rule

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Superior Court Judge Melvin F. Cohn upheld yesterday a Brisbane ordinance that prohibits garbage dumping on 250 acres of tidelands on San Francisco Bay.

KPIX (5), 10 p.m.—France's withdrawal from military commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) will be explored on a CBS News special report, "NATO: The Cracked Shield."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Underwater Show Dull, Monotonous

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — CBS-TV last night offered a special about a fantastic underwater living experiment of Jacques-Yves Cousteau, and made it seem as dull as the rest of the network's schedule, which takes some doing.

This was another of the National Geographic Society documentaries, which, except for occasional moments of inspiration, have had the incredible knack of making the exceptional seem commonplace. I can't think of anyone that should have better documentaries than the National Georgraphic, yet almost without fail the organization's video advisers have turned out flat, clinically monotonous productions.

Last night's entry, "The World of Jacques-Yves Cousteau," told for an hour of the explorer's sending of six oceanauts deep in the Mediterranean in the latest of his experiments "to occupy the sea floor, claiming it for human living."

The photography was eerily beautiful, other worldly and totally compelling yet the entire approach of the hour was so concerned with the techniques of the immediate experience that the excitement of the future potential was presented in such a way as to be yawn-provoking.

If memory serves me correctly, ABC-TV, some time ago, had a rather similar program, and handled it in a much more professiobal manner.

The pedestrial treatment of the subject last night trapped even the narrator, Orson Welles, whose delivery was merely adequate, chiefly because the material gave him no opportunity to do any better.

It is an excellent idea to keep Welles on a leash when it comes to his delivery, but to deny and squelch the oratorical juices that he can offer superbly on the right occasion, and with the right material, is to subdue a natural wonder.

"The greatest challenge divers have ever faced," somebody said during the program concerning the experiment, and this statement of a remarkable fact or opinion was emotionaless as all else. If it was the greatest challenge, etc., one might have presumed the television people in charge could have roused themselves. Truth may be stranger than fiction, but you can't depend on sayings to make a broadcast automatically successful.

Alert Neighbor Saves Woman

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — An alert neighbor probably saved the life of an elderly Billings widow who spent three days in a bathtub because she was too weak to get out.

A neighbor, Mrs. Gina Korly, called police, saying she hadn't seen Mrs. Bess Rassmussen, 85, for three days. She had a key to the home but said the doors were bolted on the inside.

Policeman Steve Jordan broke down the door to the Rassmussen home and rescued the woman.

Mrs. Rassmussen said she kept warm during the three days by letting warm water into the tub. Billings Hospital described her condition as "none the worse for wear."

Sequoia trees were named for the half-blooded Cherokee Indian, Chief Sequo-yah (George Guess or Gist), who invented a syllabary so his tribesmen could read. The word "Sequo-yah" means "pig-in-a-pen," an epithet used because the Cherokee chief hid out when absorbed in his great work.

Obsolete Texts Sent To Schools In Kenya

More than a ton of obsolete textbooks were to be shipped today from Sausalito to Nairobi, Kenya, for Nairobi classrooms which now have none.

It is the second shipment made by Mrs. Eve Byron Wyatt of 107 Cloudview Road. The first, about 50 cartons weighing almost two tons, is expected to arrive in Africa June 23.

Books are obsolete volumes, including English, reading and mathematics, given by Tamalpais High School District.

Mrs. Wyatt, who buys cardboard book boxes and pays the freight to ship the books, said she got the idea from her sister, Dr. Fay Byron Weinstein, who with her husband, Dr. Marvin Weinstein, is in Nairobi. Weinstein is head of the mathematics department at University of Nairobi, and Mrs. Weinstein is a pathologist in a hospital there.

Mrs. Weinstein visited Mrs. Wyatt about a month ago and reported that, though hungry, the Africans pay to send their children to school. "In most schools, they don't have one printed book," said Mrs. Wyatt. "Teachers write work on the board and kids copy it in copy books."

What good would books in English do? asked Mrs. Wyatt of her sister. Mrs. Weinstein pointed out that Kenya, until two years ago when it got its freedom, was an English colony, and English is taught in schools.

Drake High Seniors May Wear Shorts

A new policy allowing seniors to wear bermuda shorts every Friday has been initiated by a student committee at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Bermuda wearing is one of the privileges listed on a new senior privilege card which all eligible seniors receive. Along with senior sections in the parking lot and gym, and the senior bench, the cards will allow seniors to:

Leave study halls and classrooms with teacher's permission to study outside on pleasant days.

Have exclusive use of two windows at the canteen during the break and at noon.

Members of the student privilege committee were seniors Dick Edelstein, Dennis Askew, Sally Lloyd, Eric Iverson, and Sally Reichert, and juniors Glen Moriwaki and Mary Miliken.

The largest snowfall in one day was recorded at Silver Lake, Colo., in 1921 when 76 inches fell.

Dear Home Buyer:

For most of us, buying a new home is a decision that we have to live with for 5, 10 or 20 years. Long after the price is forgotten, the quality of your home, or lack of it, reflects either your good taste or bad judgment, as the case may be.

That is why we urge you, before you buy, to STUDY, COMPARE and ANALYZE comparative values. That is why we ask you to weigh a Petaluma Gardens home, at our starting price of $18,425, against homes that sell for $22,500 anywhere else.

For one thing, on most of our models, inflation has not yet reared its ugly head.

The next 37 buyers will profit enormously because they will get the benefit of our 1965 financing and last year's labor costs.

We know of no other development, anywhere in the Bay Area, that offers 42 custom features in every home, plus membership in a swim club, plus adjacent to a new city park, plus 100% underground utilities, plus 1 master T.V. antenna, AT NO EXTRA COST!

Speaking of the swim club, our pool will be ready to use THIS SUMMER.

Speaking of the master T.V. antenna, stop in and let us show you the fantastic color reception you get here.

Most important of all, the time to buy a new home is now. The cost of housing like everything else, slowly increases, month by month, year by year.

Final clincher in favor of Petaluma Gardens is our protective covenants, which are your permanent guarantee that neighborhood blight, caused by sloppy or thoughtless neighbors, just can't happen here.

Here is truly low cost luxury living. We invite you to stop by and look us over and see if you don't agree that Petaluma Gardens is the kind of development that you have been looking for.

FHA/VA . . . no down to Veterans.
30 years to pay. Open Every Day!

Cordially,

Sidney Garfield, Developer

110—New Imported & Spts. Cars for Sale

THIS IS NOT AN ORDINARY ADVERTISEMENT . . . BUT AM IMPORTANT STATEMENT OF FACT FROM A & E MOTORS

You've asked for it—we've asked for it—so the NSU factory in West Germany has come up with it—greater range of size, style, power and price has been added to the NSU family of fine cars in the form of two new members. We've not changed the four existing models that have gained such an enviable reputation so quickly. After all, why tamper with success, just for the sake of change?

HOWEVER—

our NEW ARRIVALS from the Old Country are MORE ROOMY — MORE POWERFUL — MORE LUXURIOUS, if only a trifle more costly. STYLING—near perfection. APPOINTMENTS—exquisite, yet functional. POWER—superior to anything in their class, and equal to many priced so very much higher, thanks to the astounding WANKEL ROTARY ENGINE.

PLEASE

come in and see for yourself. Admire all we have to offer in every model. Torture-Test-Tour these magical autos, then choose the one you want—all of them feature a 12 MONTHS or 12 THOUSAND MILE UNCONDITIONAL WARRANTY, INCLUDING PARTS AND LABOR—FROM ONLY $1595 TO $2995.

TO CELEBRATE

we are having OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, UNTIL 10 EACH NIGHT, featuring free refreshments, free favors for the kiddies, and our cordial invitation to you to experience the thrill of a motoring lifetime — FINE CAR PLEASURE AT SUCH LOW, LOW PRICES.

111—Used Imported & Spts. Cars for Sale

Introducing a used Volkswagen guarantee without any "you pay half, we pay half" nonsense

Most used car dealers sell their cars with 50-50 guarantees. You know the deal: If anything goes wrong, you pay half the cost of parts and labor. And they do the same.

Well, we don't sell used VWs that way. We guarantee the repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1,000 miles. There's no charge for parts, labor, anything.

They've all passed a tough 16-point safety and performance test. They're reconditioned and ready to roll.

In short: A car with a 100% guarantee costs no more in the beginning. And won't drive you to the poorhouse in the end.

He also discussed growing "slurbs" and said, "We want to keep our cities from becoming vast stretches of gray concrete, gray air and gray faces."

Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins of Mill Valley were co-hosts. Dr. Collins is a member of the State Board of Education, of which Braden is chairman.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Another Methotrexate Report Tells Of Psoriasis Treatment

VAN DELLEN

From time to time a report appears on the use of methotrexate in the treatment of severe, extensive psoriasis. We wish to stress "severe and extensive" because the remedy is too potent for a non-fatal skin disorder. A group of dermatologists from Duke University obtained excellent results in 40 of 51 persons with psoriatic plaques covering half the body surface.

The plan utilizes methotrexate tablets orally once a week. These men and women were followed carefully in the event that toxic effects might occur.

SCALING and redness diminished by the end of the first week and the lesions flattened and began to fade within six weeks.

Some received an oral steroid in addition to methotrexate because cortisone-type hormones help to clear the lesions more rapidly. Side reactions were kept to a minimum so long as the user cooperated.

Methotrexate is an old cancer remedy that is most effective in the treatment of leukemia and certain malignancies involving the female pelvic organs.

It is clasified as cytotoxic agent because it opposes or neutralizes folic acid, a vitamin essential for the growth of cancer cells. This folic acid antagonist produces a variety of toxic side reactions that subside when the drug is stopped.

THE DRUG also may cause fetal (congenital) abnormalities and therefore should not be used during pregnancy. Many of the disappointing results in treating cancer occur because the tissues become resistant to the drug and it loses its ability to retard cellular growth.

Ointments containing steroids are most helpful in treating psoriasis. The application of cold tar followed by exposure to ultraviolet radiation or sunshine also is a popular remedy. The latest is a low taurine diet that may offer a clue as to the cause.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HAIR REGROWTH

Mrs. L. writes: My little boy's playmate pulled out my son's hair in a fight and this left several bald patches. Will this hair regrow?

REPLY

Yes. The nude patches will fill in because hair is not "pulled out by the roots" as the term implies. What appears to be the root is the bulb at the end of the hair shaft. This part fits into the follicle, or root.

NUMB LIMBS

H. A. writes: If a person awakens with numbness of the right arm and leg but without loss of reflexes, is this likely to be a stroke?

REPLY

The physician who tested the reflexes is the best one to decide this point. Numbness of one arm and leg occurs occasionally when the circulation in a brain artery is reduced temporarily.

NECK MUSCLES

Mrs. F. I. writes: Any information you can send me on wry neck will be appreciated.

REPLY

True wry neck (torticollis) results from contraction of one of the neck muscles. The effect is to pull the head to one side where it cannot be moved in any direction. Surgery is required for cure.

ACID TEST

Mrs. M. R. writes: Could too little acid in the stomach cause a sore tongue and mouth?

REPLY

Lack of hydrochloric acid may cause this symptom, but "too little acid" is a questionable cause. On the other hand, if you feel adventuresome, ask your physician to prescribe dilute hydrochloric acid and take a few drops with each meal. If burning subsides, your diagnosis was correct.

ALTITUDE AND ANEMIA

E. T. writes: Will living in a high altitude help an anemic persons?

REPLY

It will increase the number of red blood cells but treatment still will be necessary to cure the condition because iron, the basic ingredient of hemoglobin, is not inhaled.

GARDEN VARIETY

K. T. R. writes: What are virus warts?

AGAIN AND AGAIN

A reader writes: Should a person who was operated on five times for a hernia in the groin try again?

REPLY

Yes, but try a different surgeon. He may be able to use tissues from other parts of the body or one of the metal contrivances to lend support to this area.

Some do and others remain the same size. A hydrocele rarely if ever disappears spontaneously.

Conservative Settles Magazine Libel Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — William F. Buckley Jr., magazine editor and the Conservative party candidate for mayor here last November, has paid $13,750 to a Yale law school professor's widow to settle a libel suit, the New York Times said today.

The settlement, announced yesterday, was made to Mrs. Fowler V. Harper, whose late husband had sued Buckley.

The suit sought $500,000 damages from Buckley, his magazine, The National Review, and its publisher, William A. Rusher.

After Harper died on Jan. 8, 1965, his widow, Miriam, continued to press the case.

The settlement was reached March 3 but lawyers for both sides agreed to withhold public announcement of it until after conclusion of a $1 million libel suit brought by Dr. Linus C. Pauling against Buckley and the magazine.

The Pauling case was dismissed in State Supreme Court April 19 on grounds that the plaintiff, a biochemist and two-time winner of the Nobel Prize, was open to criticism by the press.

Pauling's attorney said yesterday the 64-year-old scientist would appeal the dismissal of his case.

Both libel suits stemmed from an article in the July 17, 1962, issue of National Review. Entitled "The Collaborators," the article criticized Pauling and Harper for "their opposition to U.S. polices in Viet Nam." Pauling's suit said a second article published two months later further libeled him.

Two Arrested On Heroin Sale Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Daly City man and his wife were arrested today by state narcotics agents on charges of possessing and selling heroin.

George Ohlsen, state narcotics agent, said Charles Lee Grant, 41, and his wife, Pearl, 26, were major suppliers of heroin in the Bay Area.

The two were arrested in their car in San Francisco's Fillmore District.

Ohlsen said one ounce of heroin was found in the car and six ounces more in their Daly City home.

Ohlsen estimated the wholesale value of the confiscated drug at $10,000.

He reported a loaded .38 caliber special revolver was found in Mrs. Grant's purse and a loaded .22 revolver at the home.

Ohlsen reported $2,300 in bills was found in a camera case in the trunk of the car.

Davis will be the second member of the Independent-Journal staff to participate in an American Press Institute seminar. City editor Bryce W. Anderson was a member of the city editors' seminar in December, 1964.

Discontent Seen In Cuba Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration Latin-American expert says there are signs of an internal struggle within Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba along with "growing discontent and disillusionment within the general population."

Asst. Secretary of State Lincoln Gordon also indicated in an interview that Castro uses "admittedly efficient, ubiquitous and ruthless" security measures to control the discontent.

Gordon said "the intelligence community is confident" there are no strategic missiles in Cuba.

Conservatism Hit In Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fellow elementary school teacher has testified that Mrs. Betty Meeker admitted she "planted seeds" of conservatism in her gifted pupils, hearing witnesses say.

Mrs. Meeker, a former sixth-grade teacher at the Murphy Ranch School, is being tried by the East Whittier School Board on a charge of commenting in the classroom on the political philosophy of other persons.

Mrs. Meeker requested the hearing after the school board failed to renew her teaching contract for 1966-67.

Non-Teaching Staff Given Salary Boost

The Marin Junior College District Board last night boosted the salary schedule for non-teaching employees 5.43 per cent for fiscal 1967.

The district also will pay health insurance premiums for all fulltime employees.

Stephen E. Epler, college president, reported the non-teaching employees would get an overall 10.72 per cent increase at a cost of $43,384. This is broken down into the raise in the salary schedule, 5.43 per cent, to cost $22,344; health insurance benefits, 1.92 per cent, $7,626, and annual increments, 3.37 per cent, $13,404.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver said that with money "becoming more and more tight," the employees should realize that the new salary schedule "might stand through" the 1967-68 school year.

Board members hired eight teachers for the next school year. Joining the college staff will be:

Mrs. Martha L. Arfsten, instructor in business education and business administration, now teaching at Yuba City High School, to be paid $9,060 a year.

Gordon Chan, of San Anselmo, biology instructor, now teaching at Sir Francis Drake High School, $10,240 a year.

Mrs. Mary Hedin of San Anselmo, English instructor, now teaching part-time at the college, $7,500 a year.

Thomas C. Johnson of Fairfax, photography instructor, now working part-time at the college, at $7,500 a year.

John George Panagakis of Novato, physical education instructor, now teaching and coaching at Novato High School, $9,840.

Norman D. Stevens of Livermore, instructor in business and economics, a University of California teaching intern and research technician at Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, $7,500 a year.

Edward O. Willeford of Rohnert Park, instructor in geography and history, a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, $9,060.

Onnig H. Zezirjian of Salt Lake City, chemistry instructor, now teaching at University of Utah, $8,300.

All appointments were approved by 4-0 vote except that of Panagakis which was by 3-0 vote, Trustee Joseph Gargiulo abstained because both he and Panagakis work for the Novato Unified School District. Trustee Kent O. Seymour was absent.

The board re-hired Ruth H. Klotz, biology and chemistry instructor, who had submitted her resignation earlier this year, at $7,890 a year.

The Marin Junior College Board also:

1. Authorized Epler to apply for $38,320 in federal funds for library equipment, books and science equipment under the law granting funds to districts serving students connected with federal installations.

2. Approved a list of 155 students for graduation in June providing they complete their current courses and meet the dequired grade point average.

3. Scheduled regular board meetings for May 12 and 26 and June 9 and 23.

4. Received a report on activities of the Division of Science, Engineering and Mathematics from Carleton E. Cherry, division chairman, including presentation of color slides of a field trip to Death Valley.

5. Received a 39-page report from Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, listing data about students who entered last fall, including where they live, what courses they are taking, age, and other statistics.

6. Adjourned in memory of Mrs. Ethel Cobb-Souza, first dean of women at the college and staff member for 31 years, who died April 17.

JUAN SHARP; WILLIE ILL

Shaw Vs. Cards Tonight

A flu bug has delayed Willie Mays' assault on the National League's homer record. But the San Francisco Giants no longer are throttled by a losing string, thanks to Juan Marichal who throws well even when he can't kick high.

Mays, still seeking homer No. 512 of his major league career, may or may not be in tonight's starting lineup. He was out yesterday when his Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds 3-0 on Marichal's four-hitter.

Dr. E. C. Sailer, the Giants' physician, said Mays has a virus but would not estimate when he'd be able to play. With only one hit in nine trips since the club returned home, Willie was told by Manager Herman Franks to stay home yesterday because he wasn't feeling well.

Mays came to the clubhouse anyway but didn't dress. The doctor said he may feel well enough to play tonight or he could be out two or three more days.

Meanwhile newsmen and cameramen were once again ready to record the homer when Mays eclipses the record of 511 set by the Giants' Mel Ott and equalled by Willie last Sunday.

Marichal put the Giants back on the winning path without Mays and despite a groin muscle injury which remained painful.

"I couldn't kick as high as I usually do," the pitcher said after finishing his fourth complete game in as many starts this season and recording his fourth victory. "But it didn't affect my pitching very much."

Franks could only hope a healthy Bob Shaw could do as well tonight in facing the St. Louis Cardinals and southpaw Ray Sadecki. Until Marichal's triumph, the Giants had lost three straight.

In the four games, Marichal has walked only two opposing batters and his earned-run average stands at an amazing 0.50, two runs in four complete games.

That would put him against the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers at Candelstick Park next Tuesday, the first time he's faced them in a league game since he belted John Roseboro with a bat last fall.

Marichal did, however, pitch against the Dodgers in spring training at Phoenix without incident.

For a time it was feared that Jimmy Hart, who scored the first two San Francisco runs against the Reds, might also be on the injury list. He hurt his right shoulder falling away from a Bill McCool pitch.

"I think I can play," Hart said after the injury was treated. He doubled in the second inning and came home on Ollie Brown's single. In the sixth, Hart singled and scored on a Tom Haller triple. Jim Davenport completed the scoring with his second homer of the year, a 365-foot poke over the right field fence.

Plenty Of Trout In Marin Lakes

Trout season begins tomorrow and Marin County fishermen will get almost 16 hours to catch their limits.

The season officially starts one hour before sunrise tomorrow, which will be 5:16 a.m., PDT, and will run until 9 p.m., one hour after sunset.

Ten fish per person is the limit again this year, and all anglers 16 and older must have a license with two stamps attached. Cost of the license and stamps is $5.

According to game warden Al Giddings, the fishing should be fine on opening day. He reported the State Department of Fish and Game will plant 10,000 catchables in Lake Lagunitas prior to the season opener, and the DFG boys have already planted bundles of trout in Nicasio and Bon Tempe reservoirs, plus 3,000 in Rodeo Lagoon.

There were two plants of silver salmon in two of the lakes in the Point Reyes National Seashore area, but Giddings said it is possible the fish have already migrated to sea.

Marin County creeks should be in "fair" shape, said Giddings, with small fish. But fishing will be nil in Nicasio Creek through Lucas Valley, where pollution from a dairy ranch last week killed many fish.

The Marin County lakes, under the jurisdiction of the Marin Municipal Water District, are closed on Sundays and permits must be obtained from the district to fish on Saturdays and weekdays.

Giddings added that Alpine and Peters Dam could have some large fish, although plants of catchables have not been made for some time. A plant of 30,000 was made six months ago at Shipman's Pond near the Drake's Beach Monument area, but the road there has been closed. Persons should check with the ranger there before trying the spot, said Giddings. He also added that black bass fishing is good and blue gill fishing excellent at Nicasio Lake.

Tam Athletes On A Hot Streak; Girls Softball Pretty Catty

TUESDAY WAS not only Red's Tamales Day, but the Tamalpais High School athletes were pretty hot themselves.

On that day the Indians won varsity, junior varsity and frosh ball games, Classes A, B and C in track, Classes A and B in swimming and a tennis match. Their only setback on the day came in golf.

The previous Friday Tam's hot-shots swept three baseball games, three track and two swimming meets.

Add yesterday's tennis triumph and a tie in golf, and the Mill Valley school's record for the past week is 18 victories, 1 loss and 1 tie.

Hey, what are they feeding those Southern Marin kids?

JOHNNY BOCCABELLA, the Chicago Cubs' three-position utility man by way of Marvelous Marin, saw action at first base yesterday and apparently felt right at home. The ex-Santa Clara All-American collected two singles in two at-bats and drove across a run, but the hard luck Cubbies lost in 10 innings to first place Pitt, 9-6.

THE OPENING of yachting season Sunday reminds me of last year's nautical inaugural in which clergymen of three religious faiths blessed the fleet as it headed toward the bay parade.

Yachtsmen who got close enough to peer through an undraped cabin window of the clergymen's yacht got a good view of a well-stocked bar. "Holy spirits!" cried one old 86-proofed mariner.

TEAMS IN the San Rafael Recreation Department's Girls Softball League have adopted such cute nicknames as Lions, Tigers, Crazy Cats and Panthers, which is pretty catty, even for girls.

Some other feminine names in the league are Vultures, Wranglers and Chargers, the latter the most creditable of the lot.

IN MY relentless search for the almighty local angle I hit the jackpot the other day while thumbing through the pages of the Hayward Review.

A column by Sports Editor Sid Hoos tells us that Mr. and Mrs. John Cerrudo have moved from Piedmont of Southern Alameda County to (pause for dramatic effect)—MILL VALLEY!

Sid Hoos-iwatzis mentions that such a move ordinarily would rate mention only in society columns, but this item is a sports headliner because it also shifts the headquarters of the Cerrudos' son, Ronnie, a 21-year-old amateur golfer of some note.

Ron, the state's newly-crowned "Amateur of the Year," is attending San Jose State and will play out of there for the next couple of months, but will switch his home base to Marin during the summer.

He plans to play in some of the larger amateur classics this summer so the wire services will list him as our local boy.

In the recent Masters Ron turned in a fine 76-77-72-83—307 card.

Welcome to the Cerrudo family.

Al Davis Comes On Swinging

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Davis is going to be a rootin', tootin' gun fighter as commissioner of the American Football League. He wants no part of any common draft or any title game with the National Football League.

"Last year I acted as a liaison man for two months between some good friends in the other league and our league on the possibility of a merger," said Davis. "I thought it was very close but their demands were just ridiculous. As a coach I was against it but I punched hard."

Davis, making his first appearance in New York since he took over from Joe Foss, who resigned two weeks ago, said the office would operate differently from now on.

"We have acted a little bit independently, like little outposts," Davis said. "I want to bring it together with one common object and goal. It will take two or three months to organize. Then maybe we'll drop a bomb and get everybody excited."

Davis, formerly general manager and coach of the Oakland Raiders, said the commissioner's office "has got to be based on a dictatorial system. We intend to do a lot more from the league office."

Asked at the news conference if he advocated a title game with the NFL as Foss had done, Davis said:

"No, I do not. What we want to do is make our league the best in football. I really don't care much about the other league. We stand on the threshold of very strong competition. This we expect to meet."

Davis also opposed the common draft on the grounds that his league, with only nine clubs to 15 for the NFL, had an edge in each draft round.

"Each of our clubs gets almost two players for their one in a round," he said. "Then it becomes a question of signing them."

Commenting on the NFL's success in beating the AFL in the 1965 signing competition, Davis said, "I was disappointed in the San Diego Chargers' refusal to spend money. I think they will change. It hurt us when the Chargers didn't spend. Be assured I didn't take the job without commitments that we would fight for players."

Davis said ie was not committed to any time period for expansion but said he wanted to reach a maximum of 12 clubs as soon as possible.

"Only two cities are capable of handling two pro clubs," he said, identifying them later as New York and Chicago. Davis also said Anaheim and Los Angeles had tremendous possibilities as potential franchise sites but he ruled out Philadelphia and Washington as AFL sites for the present.

Davis is a Brooklyn-born man, with a dash of Dixie accent blended with the Brooklynese.

He is going to come out swinging. Of that you can be sure.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Drysdale Goes The Route As Dodgers Shell Braves

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

So you want to be a manager...

Try and figure it the way Bobby Bragan of Atlanta did in his Braves' 8-2 loss to the Los Angles Dodgers last night.

Here's the way Bragan manipulated the club:

In the second inning when the Dodgers erupted for five runs, Bragan not only changed pitchers, sending in Clay Carroll for Wade Blasingame, he also took out first-string first baseman Lee Thomas and sent outfielder Marty Keough in as Thomas' substitute.

Why?

In the fifth inning, Bragan, now trailing 3-1, decided to lift first-string catcher Joe Torre, and sent outfielder Rico Carty behind the plate for the first time in his major league career.

Why?

In the sixth inning, after using Carroll, Arnold Umbach and Chi Chi Olivo in relief, Bragan called for his No. 1 relief specialist, Billy O'Dell, with the game completely out of sight.

Just think along with Bragan:

"I took out Torre because he couldn't see," said Bragan. "He's been bothered by a sinus infection. He struck out the first time and said, 'Let me give it one more try.' When he struck out again, I took him out.

"I used O'Dell because he has to pitch. He's only worked nine innings in 15 games. It was a choice between him and Phil Niekro, who throws a knuckler, so I went to O'Dell because it was Carty's first league game as a catcher."

And Keough for Thomas?

By putting Keough in the lineup at the same time as Carroll, Bragan was able to juggle his batting order, getting Keough into the pitcher's spot. That enabled Keough to lead off the third inning instead of Carroll, who batted in Thomas' spot.

Simple isn't it?

Meanwhile, Juan Marichal posted his fourth victory for San Francisco with a four-hit, 3-0 victory over Cincinnati. Pittsburgh outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-6 10 innings and Houston defeated St. Louis 4-2. The New York Mets and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Don Drysdale got the victory for the Dodgers — his first after two losses — and more important went nine innings for the first time this season. Drysdale allowed six hits, including a homer and double by Hank Aaron, struck out 10 and did not walk a man.

But Drysdale never was in serious trouble. Lou Johnson collected two doubles and a single, driving in three runs. Jim Lefebvre knocked in two with a homer and a single and Maury Wills stroked a pair of run-producing singles.

Defense Key In Win Over Lakers

By DAVE O'HARA

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics took pride in a tight defense today while reigning as National Basketball Assn. champions for an unprecedented eighth straight year.

"That was really the great way to do it," said Coach Red Auerbach as he moved into full-time duty as general manager after 20 years on the bench.

The Celtics gave Auerbach a title salute by edging the Los Angeles Lakers 95-93 with one of the most tenacious defenses in NBA history last night in the decisive showndown of a best-of-7 series.

Cheered on by a sell-out crowd of 13,909, the legal capacity at Boston Garden, the Celtics built a 76-60 third period lead and held on as the Lakers rallied vainly in the final 90 seconds for eight straight points.

"We put up a good fight, but moral victories are no good," said Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, whose Lakers have failed to defeat the Celtics in five championship series.

Capt. Bill Russell, who has led Boston to nine NBA titles in 10 years, moved up to the rank of playing-coach in a blaze of glory.

The 6-foot-10 Russell, the first Negro to become coach of a major league club in any sport, scored 25 points and grabbed 32 rebounds. He also blocked several shots and triggered Boston's fast break attack.

The Boston defense, which had sagged in permitting Los Angeles to win the fifth and sixth games, squaring the series, was as tight as many of the players' bandages, protecting injured legs.

The Celtics stormed to a 10-0 lead before LeRoy Ellis put Los Angeles on the scoreboard. Boston moved out to a 27-20 first period lead and widened the margin to 53-38 at halftime as the Lakers' top scorers, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor, were held to a total of three field goals.

Boston boosted its advantage to 19 points, 59-40, early in the third period before West and Baylor began finding the range. An 11-3 spurt provided the Celtice a 16-point margin at the three-quarter mark. Then came the hectic finish—with Auerbach nearly choking on a victory cigar lighted with the score 95-85.

"That was the best defense we've played all season," said John Havlicek, who played the entire 48 minutes, scoring 16 points and grabbing 16 rebounds.

The Celtics hit on 37 of 105 floor shots for 35.2 per cent, while the Lakers managed 33 of 88 for 37½ per cent. Boston cashed 21 of 24 free throws, Los Angeles, 27 of 38. The Celtics controlled the boards, holding a 77-60 advantage in rebounds.

Boxers' Names Have Lost That Ol' Color

Times was in this country—or this world, for that matter—when a fighter's ring handle was "Tiger," it was a nickname, not a surname. And, if the pug's name was "Emile," he was more apt to be taken for Mademoiselle from Armentieres than the welterweight champion of the world.

They don't name pugs "One Round" or "Punchy" or "Slasher" any more. They all come on like the polo seedings at Westbury. To give you an idea, the last prize ring Griffith of note (before Emile) was nicknamed "Tuffy." Then there was that great Searle cartoon showing worried-looking fellow sitting next to an obvious sub-human and protesting, "Before I sign I want to know exactly why he's called 'The Bush Wick Assassin'."

EMILE GRIFFITH, who is now the middleweight champion of the world, thanks to the almost saint-like forbearance of the ex-champion, Dick Tiger, has never been known by anything but his double-gaited first name. A far cry from the good old days when we had "Gorilla" Jones, "K.O." Christner, "Dynamite" Jackson, "Bombadier" Billy Wells and even, for the ladies, "The Orchid Man," "Gentleman Jim" and, for the losers, "Unknown Winston."

Tiger's real handle is "Dick Ihetu." In the old days, he would have been known as "Tiger Dick" instead of vice versa. He is a nice-enough sort of fighter. He never saw a tiger himself except in the movies. He is, in fact, the only tiger you will find in Africa. The name came from the notion that, when he first took up prize fighting, he was so ferocious he should be fought only from the backs of elephants.

BUT, AGAINST Griffith, this tiger's chief stock-in-trade seemed to be enormous patience. As of this writing, he is still waiting for an opening, and the fight ended at 11:15 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time Monday.

Dick learned his style fighting from the old "British Squares" of Revolutionary days when the red-coats would come out and line up in a block formation where they were vulnerable from all four sides, a style of battle which American Indian-fighters found as fascinating as a firing-squad formation. Tiger fought from this unwarlike stance all night long and considered it un-cricket to fire unless fired upon. He preferred to hold his punches 'til all systems were go. When he triggered, all systems had went, to quote the late Joe Gould.

DICK IS PROBABLY the most successful fighter ever to come out of Africa—give or take Hogan "Kid" Bassey and a French-Algerian or two. But he is hardly the most colorful. That feckless honor went to Louis Phal, a legitimate Moslem from Senegal, who fought under the name of "Battling Siki," drank under the name of anyone who would buy, and once fought an Irishman in Dublin on St. Patrick's Day.

Siki went through life in a mist of absinthe—or whatever else was aboard. He tried to throw a fight to Georges Carpentier in Paris one night, but the Surete, a kind of pre-historic Man-From-Uncle set, put some lip-readers on the film and came up with the deduction Siki knocked out Georges in spite of himself. A ringsider could have told him without even knowing the language. Among other things, Georges tripped over his own feet.

SIKI LIVED OUT his life in New York's Hell's Kitchen in a monocle, a plugged hat, cape and gold cane. He did everything but throw money from airplanes. But he wrecked more speakeasies when drunk than the Volstead act, and, when he died—shot through the back one night—the list of suspects was narrowed to 200,000.

Still, I don't believe a guy named "Emile" would have won nine rounds off him. Not even a half hour after he was shot.

OVER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE . . .

Cleveland Equals Win Streak Mark

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's winning streak is getting longer — and so is Birdie Tebbetts' hair.

The dapper manager's hair crept a bit further down his neck last night as the Indians tied the major league record for consecutive victories at the start of the season with their 10th straight, a 2-1 decision over California.

Tebbbetts says he's not superstitious. But just the same he's not changing any routine, at least not while his club is winning. He knows what happened to Samson when his locks were clipped, so the Cleveland skipper is steering clear of barber shops.

"I go by and see those empty chairs," says Tebbetts, "but I can't force myself to go in."

And while his hair piles up, he continues to adhere closely to other routines.

He has breakfast at the same table in the same hotel with the same waitress serving him every morning.

And Coach George Strickland, who lives on the other side of town, has become Tebbets' regular chauffeur. Strickland drove the manager back to his hotel after the opening day victory and he's had the assignment ever since.

In the only other American League game played Thursday, Detroit hammered four home runs and raked Kansas City 13-5. Rain and cold weather postponed the other scheduled games.

The Indians' 10th victory tied the mark set by the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers and matched by the 1962 Pittsburgh Pirates. It also broke the American League record of nine set by the 1944 St. Louis Browns.

Leon Wagner's sacrifice fly brought the winning run home in the eighth inning with some daring base running by Pedro Gonzalez setting it up.

Gonzalez had singled with one out and when Dick Howser beat out an infield hit, Gonzalez raced all the way to third, taking off as Jim Fregosi threw to first. Then Wagner's fly ball brought him home.

Rick Reichardt had tied the game in the top of the eighth with a home run—the first run off the Cleveland pitching staff in 29 innings.

Don Wert walloped a grand slam homer and Jerry Lumpe added a three-run shot as Detroit erupted for seven runs in the fifth inning against the Athletics.

Al Kaline also had a three-run homer and Jim Northrup connected with one man on for the Tigers.

MIKE FARMER

Ex-USFer Named Baltimore Coach

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mike Farmer, a defensive standout as a National Basketball Assn. player, finds himself in an almost untenable position as he takes over as coach of the Baltimore Bullets.

The 29-year-old Farmer assumed his first coaching job yesterday after signing a two-year contract to replace Paul Seymour, who quit April 1. But he will remain available to assist the St. Louis Hawks in next month's draft of college players.

Ironically, the Hawks will have the fourth choice on each round of the draft and the Bullets will select fifth.

"This is a unique situation because I am still under obligation to Ben Kerner at St. Louis," Farmer said yesterday at a news conference. "But I think what I've had to say about the draft up until now will be my main contribution to the Hawks."

However, the owners of the Bullets said Kerner, owner of the Hawks, had given Baltimore permission to confer with Farmer on condition he remain available for consultation on the draft.

Asked if he would confer with Baltimore General Manager Buddy Jeannette about the college draft, Farmer said, "In all honesty, I don't think I can."

However, Farmer did huddle with Jeannette late Wednesday about which four Baltimore players should be offered to stock the new NBA franchise in Chicago next season.

Farmer did not apply for the Bullets' job. He was contacted by telephone at his St. Louis home Tuesday and agreed to terms Wednesday after a brief meeting with the owners in Washington.

Farmer averaged less than seven points a game in the NBA, but he is well schooled in defense. He played for the University of San Francisco with two defensive aces of the Boston Celtics, K. C. Jones and Bill Russell, Boston's newly appointed coach.

Farmer will be Baltimore's fourth coach in four NBA seasons. His precessors were Bob Leonard, Jennette and Seymour.

Terra Linda, Novato Win Golf Duels

Tom McDaniel fired a one-over-par 37 to pace Terra Linda High School's linksters to a 5-1 Marin Athletic League triumph over San Rafael yesterday at Marin Country Club.

Yesterday's other MCAL action saw Novato's Ray Leach shooting a one-under-par 35 on the back nine at Indian Valley as the Hornets shut out Marin Catholic, 6-0; and Drake High battling Tamalpais to a 3-3 deadlock—the firts tie for a Drake golf team in six years.

It also was the closest (in six years) the Pirates have ever come to defeating the Indians on the links, according to Drake Coach Luverne Lull.

Joy In Novato: Net Team Finally Wins

Novato High School's tennis team won its first Marin Athletic League match ever yesterday, blanking Marin Catholic's Wildcats, 5-0, on the Hornets' corner.

Jerrold Moore, a happy Novato coach, noted that, besides the victory, another bright light for the Hornet netmen was Don Rosenberg's inspired performance in singles action. Rosenberg lost the first set, 0-6, to Wildcat Pete Mirc. Moreover, he was down love-five in the second set, then stormed back swinging with deft deliberation to take it, 7-5; and won a 6-3 verdict in the finale.

It marked the second time this season Rosenberg has made such a sensational comeback, and gave the Hornets two big reasons to celebrate.

In other MCAL tennis action yesterday, Tamalpais's Barry Brink and Steve Harper remained undefeated in singles play as the Indians handed San Rafael's racquet men their first leaguel oss of the year, clipping the Bulldogs, 3-2, and taking over sole possession of the league-lead, on the Tam courts. And Mark Vance, Drake's highly-touted netter, kept up his winning ways as the Pirates whipped Terra Linda, 4-1, across the Trojan nets.

THE TEXAS OPEN

Cal Home Pro Is Surprise Leader

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Larry Mowry, a California home pro, surprised the regular touring golf pros with a five-under-par 65 and a tie for the lead in the first round of the $80,000 Texas Open.

Mowry, pro at the Whispering Palms Country Club at Rancho Sante Fe., used a hot putter in tying veteran Gene Littler yesterday.

Another home pro, Don Collett of the Brae Burn Country Club in Houston, was one stroke off the pace. Al Funseth and Tommy Aaron also had 66s.

Fine weather and a lush course made for low scores as eight pros shot 67s and more than 30 others shot par or sub-par rounds.

Shooting 67s on the 6,715-yard Oak Hills Country Club course were Bob Goetz, Al Geiberger, Jay Hebert, Chris Blocker, Dale Douglass, Joel Goldstrand, Bill Griffiths and Wright Garrett.

Mowry said this was his first tournament that he didn't worry about meeting expenses. He said he had a financial "home base" in his pro job and can play an occasional tournament.

"When you've got to cut expenses to keep going, you just can't compete with guys that don't have to worry about it," he said, referring to the three years he spent on the tour. "I've got so much confidence now it's unbelievable."

Mowry, 29, putted only 28 times on the round, dropping birdies from 12 and 35 feet and hitting the greens close to the hole to pick up four more birdies with short putts.

Littler holed a chip from 40 yards on the 11th hole for a birdie and just missed on 80-yard chip on the 17th where his shot just rimmed the cup. He dropped it for a birdie from six inches.

Littler's lone bogey came on the first hole but he followed it with a birdie and never slowed down after that. He dropped putts from 20, 29, 15, 6 and 5 feet for birdies.

Collett's 66-stroke round was a surprise even to himself.

He plays on the tour only infrequently and said he would rather write about golf than play it.

He was the ghost writer for a Littler book entitled, "How to Master the Iron game," a golf best seller last year.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Bass Derby Set This Weekend; A Trout Derby For Mill Valley

STEVENS

So you figure you can't afford a color television set right now! Well, how about getting a dandy one—color TV in combination with a stereo-radio (a $1,000 outfit) for free? The only restriction is that you must catch the winning fish in the 15th annual Rio Vista Bass Derby to be held tomorrow and Sunday.

I suggested in a previous column that it might be wise to get in some practice by fishing for salmon, striped bass, or sturgeon. However the very latest news anent these species, excepting sturgeon, is not very rosy. The salmon results outside the Gate are far from enticing. As of Wednesday, most boats reported the silver horde conspicuous by their absence. As this is being written a number of skippers are scouting the usual haunt of the salmon, but I have no word as yet.

Sorry to have to report that striper striving is still unrewarding in San Pablo Bay, but a few catches have been made trolling on the flats between the Berkeley Pier and Point Isabel, as well as a scattered few from Point San Pablo to Rodeo.

I DROVE ACROSS the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, and was a bit surprised that I could see no boats working the area near Red Rock, nor across at Point San Quentin. In years past, at this time of the year it was usual to spot dozens of skiffs trolling those waters. It may be a bit early to expect much action in the Red Rock-San Quentin area. But a boat or two most certainly should give it a try. Might be salmon as well as bass in that sector.

Just heard over my Halicrafter that the Boat Merrimac, out of Caruso's harbor at Sausalito, was putting his ninth salmon in the box. I gathered the Merrimac was working with a short load, so maybe the salmon absentees have been found.

IT WAS MY privilege to address the Novato Lions Club on Wednesday. Sure a fine bunch of boys — fishermen all. President Harry Young kept the pride of Lions well in hand. Must have brought back memories of the Air Force years. I listened to the mandates and laws of the club read to newly elected members — very impressive! Congratulations to Larry Cato. Hope he is elected to the select group who catch more fish consistently than others.

SAY! ANYONE like to register their male offspring in a trout derby? If so, I suggest you get in touch with the "top brass" of the Mill Valley Optimist Club. You'll get a kick out of the rules submitted by Chairman Bill Eberhart on the entry form. I hope Eberhart lets us know who wins.

Clay-Cooper Bout To Be On Home TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cassius Clay-Henry Cooper heavyweight title fight in London, Saturday, May 21, will be carried live, via the early bird satellite, on home television through the American Broadcasting Co. The bout will be seen on the Wide World of Sports program from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Roone Alredge, vice-president in charge of sports at ABC, announced the signing of the contract yesterday with Mike Maltz, executive vice president of Main Bout, Inc., which controls the television rights to the bout.

An ABC spokesman said he could not divulge any information about the amount of money ABC paid for the rights.

It will be the first heavyweight championship bout seen live on home television since Floyd Patterson fought Brian London in Indianapolis, Ind., in 1959. Chris Schenkel will be the announcer.

Golf Tournament

Hal Ramsey and Lowell Jackson will be representing San Quentin Prison in the annual California Department of Corrections golf tournament at Salinas Golf and Country Club, May 5 and 6.

Baseball Signups End Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the last day for registration in the senior division (15-17) of the San Rafael Youth Baseball League.

Registration and tryouts will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. at Albert Park. Boys interested in the junior division (13-14) will be placed on the reserve rosters.

Blessing Of The Fleet Scheduled For Sunday

The second annual Blessing of the Fleet will be held Sunday, 10 a.m., in conjunction with opening day ceremonies for the San Francisco Bay yachting season.

The blessing ceremonies, which drew more than 1,200 boats last year, will take place at the west end of Racoon Strait between the Marin shore and Angel Island's Point Stuart. It is sponsored by the Corinthian Yacht Club of Tiburon.

Aboard the Navy destroyer escourt, USS Walton, will be spiritual leaders of three faiths to bless the sailing and power craft that pass on their way to opening day ceremonies on the San Francisco waterfront.

Participants will include Father William Dunn of the Marist Seminary in San Rafael; Rabbi Saul White of Congregation Beth Sholom in San Francisco, and Rev. Benton Gaskell of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon.

Boats passing by the Walton between 10 and 11:15 a.m. will be blessed and may receive a scroll commemorating the event upon request to the Corinthian Yacht Club.

Following the Blessing of the fleet, a Navy band will present a concert on the main deck of Corinthian Yacht Club, and the club will hold open house. Chairman of the event is Capt. Elmer Towle, USNR, of Belvedere.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Repeated Error On This Hand Could Make You Look So Silly

If you find an opponent generous enough to let you play a hand twice, take time out for thought.

You look silly if you pile a second mistake on top of the first.

Opening lead — ♣ J

South took the ace of clubs, drew one trump, overtook his club in dummy and returned a diamond to try a finesse with the queen. When this worked, South smiled triumphantly, but there is nothing sillier than an ill-timed smile.

WHAT'S WRONG?

South drew a second trump, cashed the ace of diamonds and gave up a diamond.

East promptly returned a trump, taking the last trump out of dummy.

Down one.

"I should have drawn only one trump," South remarked.

"You can play it again if you let me double." East offered.

South tried it again without drawing a second round of trumps. When East won the third round of diamonds he led his last diamond, and West ruffed with the eight of spades, shutting dummy out.

Down one again.

EXACT PLAY

South can make the hand by exact play. He takes the ace of clubs, draws one trump and then leads a low diamond.

The key play is to give up the first diamond trick rather than the third.

East returns a club to dummy's king, and declarer wins a diamond finesse with the queen.

Now South can draw a second round of trumps. He cashes the ace of diamonds, and ruffs a diamond in dummy.

Fortunately for him, the opponent with four diamonds also has the third trump.

Having ruffed a diamond in dummy, South ruffs a club to get back safely.

Only then can he draw the last trump.

He can then claim the rest of the tricks.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, April 29, the 119th day of 1966 with 246 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

The Duke of Wellington, who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo, was born on this day in 1769.

On this day in history:

In 1913, Gideon Sundaback of Hoboken, N.J., was granted a patent for the present day "zipper."

In 1945, the bodies of Italian dictator Mussolini and his companions, executed by partisans the day before, were hanged in a public square in Milan.

Also in 1945, American soldiers liberated 32,000 prisoners at Dachau, the oldest and worst of the Nazi extermination camps.

In 1965, an earthquake in the Pacific Northwest killed six persons. The quake caused damages totaling $12.5 million.

A thought for the day — Scottish philosopher Francis Hutcheson: "That action is best which procures the greatest happiness for the greatest numbers."

Sherman Clay And Co. Sets San Rafael Move

Sherman Clay and Co. will move to a new downtown San Rafael location on Aug. 1.

The piano, organ and musical instrument firm, which is celebrating its 96th anniversary in business this month, has chosen the southwest corner of Fourth and C streets for its second San Rafael relocation since opening on Grand Avenue several years ago.

One part of the Fourth and C Street site was recently vacated by Scandinavian Designs, which has moved around the corner to 921 C Street. Additional space next door will become available in a few weeks when the Wide Horizon Shop moves to 1223 Fourth Street.

San Rafael manager Margo Margossian said extensive remodeling on the two stores will give the company twice as much floor space for displaying pianos, organs and high fidelity and stereo equipment as it has at 1029 C Street. In addition, he said, there is a spacious basement for storage. A limited space will also be available for some organ and piano instruction in the new store. Margossian said, but most of this work will continue at the company's school of music at 817 B Street, headed by Ronald Cole.

Sherman Clay opened its San Rafael store on C Street just three years ago in a removal from 963 Grand Avenue. Margossian, previously with the Oakland store, became manager in San Rafael in May, 1964.

The company, headed by Donald Ravitch as president, now operates 33 stores in the western states. It is retail outlet for Hammond and Everett organs; Steinway, Chickering, Steck, Everett, Cable-Nelson and Hammond pianos, and Fisher stereo-radio phonographs.

Lease transaction for the new store was handled by Alan H. Scurfield of Marvelous Marin Realty.

Western Air Lines Gains 20.3 Per Cent

BEVERLY HILLS—Western Air Lines' first quarter earnings were up 20.3 per cent over the same period of 1965, Terrell C. Drinkwater, president, told stockholds at the company's annual meeting in Beverly Hills.

Earnings for the three month period were $2,896,000, or 67 cents a share, compared to $2,408,000, or 56 cents a share, for the same period in 1965, Drinkwater reported.

Production of paper and containerboard was 8 per cent ahead of last year, amounting to a quarterly record of 556,000 tons.

Spending Worries Affluent Society

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — How do you measure the affluence of the affluent American people? Today's society got its title of affluent partly because total personal incomes have risen to a record high but also because total consumer spending has risen just as fast.

Income is commonly used as the measure of affluence and spending as the manifestation of it.

But there are other factors in a definitive summing up of the economic status of Americans as individuals or as a group. The Securities and Exchange Commission has totted up all the latest available figures. It reports that personal assets have risen to a record high along with personal incomes — but that personal indebtedness also has hit new highs.

Fortunately, the financial assets of individuals top their debts by a sizable margin. This puts an apprently still solid base under the affluence which the income and spending figures portray.

The SEC puts personal financial saving at a record $34 billion. But there are other forms that assets take.

For example, private insurance and pension reserves rose $13 billion in the year to a total of $208.7 billion. Federal government insurance and pension reserves went up by $5 billion to $61.8 billion. And funds put in private noninsured pension programs rose $5.6 billion to a total of $70.9 billion — compared with the $2 billion rise in insured pension reserves to $27.2 billion.

While individuals were getting wealthier, judged by these measures of savings and assets, they were also piling on debts.

And the percentage of personal income after taxes that is being put into savings dropped in the early months of this year. Disposable income was running at an annual rate of $500 billion, but savings dropped to 4.8 per cent of that, compared with the 1960-65 average of 5.5 per cent.

It is this swing to more spending — up 3 per cent in the last year — that has worried the critics of the affluent society. They contend that more Americans now tend to spend all they make, or a little more, and to depend more on an all-benevolent federal government to take care of any problems that may arise.

But the SEC's latest figures show that Americans, as a whole, still have ample financial assets to take care of their debts. And Americans are known to change their ways quickly — to move swiftly from spending a lot to saving more — when they sense danger. Right now, few apparently do.

Paramount Pictures Names Vice President

NEW YORK—Martin Davis has been elected a vice president of Paramount Pictures Corp. by the board of directors, it was announced by George Weltner, president. Davis was also designated executive assistant to the president.

Davis, 39, has been a vice president of a corporate subsidiary, Paramount Film Distribution Corp., since 1963 and director of advertising and public relations of the corporation since 1960. He joined Paramount in 1958 and previously was associated with Allied Artists Corp. and Samuel Goldwyn Productions.

Allstate Insurance Sets Sales Record

MENLO PARK—Sales of Allstate Life Insurance to individuals in 1965 reached a new high of $839 million face amount, a substantial increase of 19 per cent over the prior year's sales of $707 million, Chairman of the Board Judson Branch announced.

Allstate's total life insurance in force aty earend 1965 rose to $4,386,000,000, including $1,981,000,000 purchased by individuals and $2,405,000,000 of group insurance.

San Quentin Husband, Wife Team Leaving

A husband and wife team at San Quentin Prison retire this week, ending a combined 20 years' work at the prison.

Clyde S. Everett, assistant superintendent of the prison's cotton textile mill, and his wife Laura, a secretary there, are retiring to Santa Cruz.

Everett, 63, has been instrumental in making the multimillion dollar cotton mill a successful enterprise. The mill produces denim cloth for prison issue clothing, toweling, muslin and cotton products.

Beginning as an apprentice in 1922, Everett has 42 years experience in the textile industry. For some 17 years he worked for the California Cotton Mills in Oakland.

Mrs. Everett, a native of El Paso, Tex., is a graduate of San Jose High School and attended San Jose State College. She has worked as a secretary at the prison with the intensive treatment program, and the increased correctional effectiveness program, both experimental efforts in the treatment of inmates.

The Everetts, both fishing enthusiasts, will live at Santa Cruz in a mobile home.

Highway Patrol Mechanical Check

Cars stopped for violations of the vehicle code will be inspected for mechanical defects by highway patrolmen, starting Sunday.

Capt. T. F. Parnow, California Highway Patrol commander for Marin County, said his men will also check for installation of air pollution control devices.

Only vehicles stopped for observed code violations will be inspected, Parnow said. Officers will check the horn, windshield wipers, mirrors, glass, steering, brakes, tires, lights and mufflers.

The new inspection program was called for by the State Legislature, Parnow said.
